The QA Manager will also co-opt specific individuals with articular knowledge and experience to assist with the development and review of policies and procedures. All work undertaken by the QA Manager and other relevant personnel is subject to review by the Quality Panel and approved by the Quality Assurance committee. Learners, tutors, and staff are informed of the policies and procedures that are relevant to them in an induction presentation and are provided with a handbook for reference.

1.9.1 Policy Templates

Policies and standard operating procedures (SOPs) are version controlled and date marked. This monitoring process ensures that policies continue to meet the needs of the company, customers, and stakeholders.

The common template will include:

- Policy Title

As a controlled document, the current version of each policy is logged in the Master list file.

Barrow Training implement a strict document control and ownership system. All QA documents are controlled by the QA Manager. The QA Manager uses internal audits and ongoing reviews to monitor the effectiveness of each process during the course of the year.

1.9.2 Internal Audits

Barrow Training conducts internal audits at planned intervals to provide information on whether the quality management system:

- a) conforms to the organisation's own requirements of ISO 9001 within its scope

A fully documented procedure is in place – SOP 106 - Auditing.

1.10 Risk

1.10.1 Actions to Address Risks and Opportunities in Training and Education

Matters arising during ongoing monitoring will provide an opportunity to assess programme-related risks. Areas of concern identified during ongoing monitoring and programme review will trigger appropriate intervention to ensure the achievement of all Barrow Training programme objectives.

End-of-programme surveys will acknowledge programme strengths and highlight potential areas for development and improvement before the next scheduled iteration of the programme.

All recommendations from programme reviews and ongoing monitoring will be presented to the Quality Assurance Committee and Board of Management.

1.10.2 Actions to Address Risks and Opportunities in the Organisational Context

The Board of Management Team of Barrow Training have completed a full risk assessment of the business taking into consideration the context (internal and external factors and conditions) of the organisation, along with the relevant requirements of their interested parties and how this may impact on the company's Quality Management System.

The results of the risk assessments have been documented within the company business Risk Register (QF199).

The Risk Register outlines the potential threats to the ongoing operation of the organisation, and what mitigation measures are in place to minimise the likely occurrence of these threats. The methodology of how the company identifies both its risks and opportunities related to the QMS are addressed according to the procedure for addressing risks and opportunities (SOP 109 Risk Management).

Barrow Training has planned actions to address both risks and opportunities and has fully integrated and implemented the actions into its QMS processes. Barrow Training evaluates the effectiveness of these actions on an ongoing basis. These risks include potential blended learning risks.

High risks identified in the risk register will also be discussed during the quarterly Board of Management review.

1.11 Management Review

A Management Review is undertaken by the Board of Management on an annual basis to ensure continued suitability, adequacy and effectiveness of the Quality Management System and alignment with the strategic direction of the organisation.

Chapter 2. Programmes of Education and Training

This chapter relates to the following Quality Assurance guidelines from Barrow Training's accrediting bodies:

- Programmes of Education and Training (QQI Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guideline 3)
- Course Development, Delivery & Review (PHECC Quality Assurance Theme 4)
- QQI Blended learning guidelines.

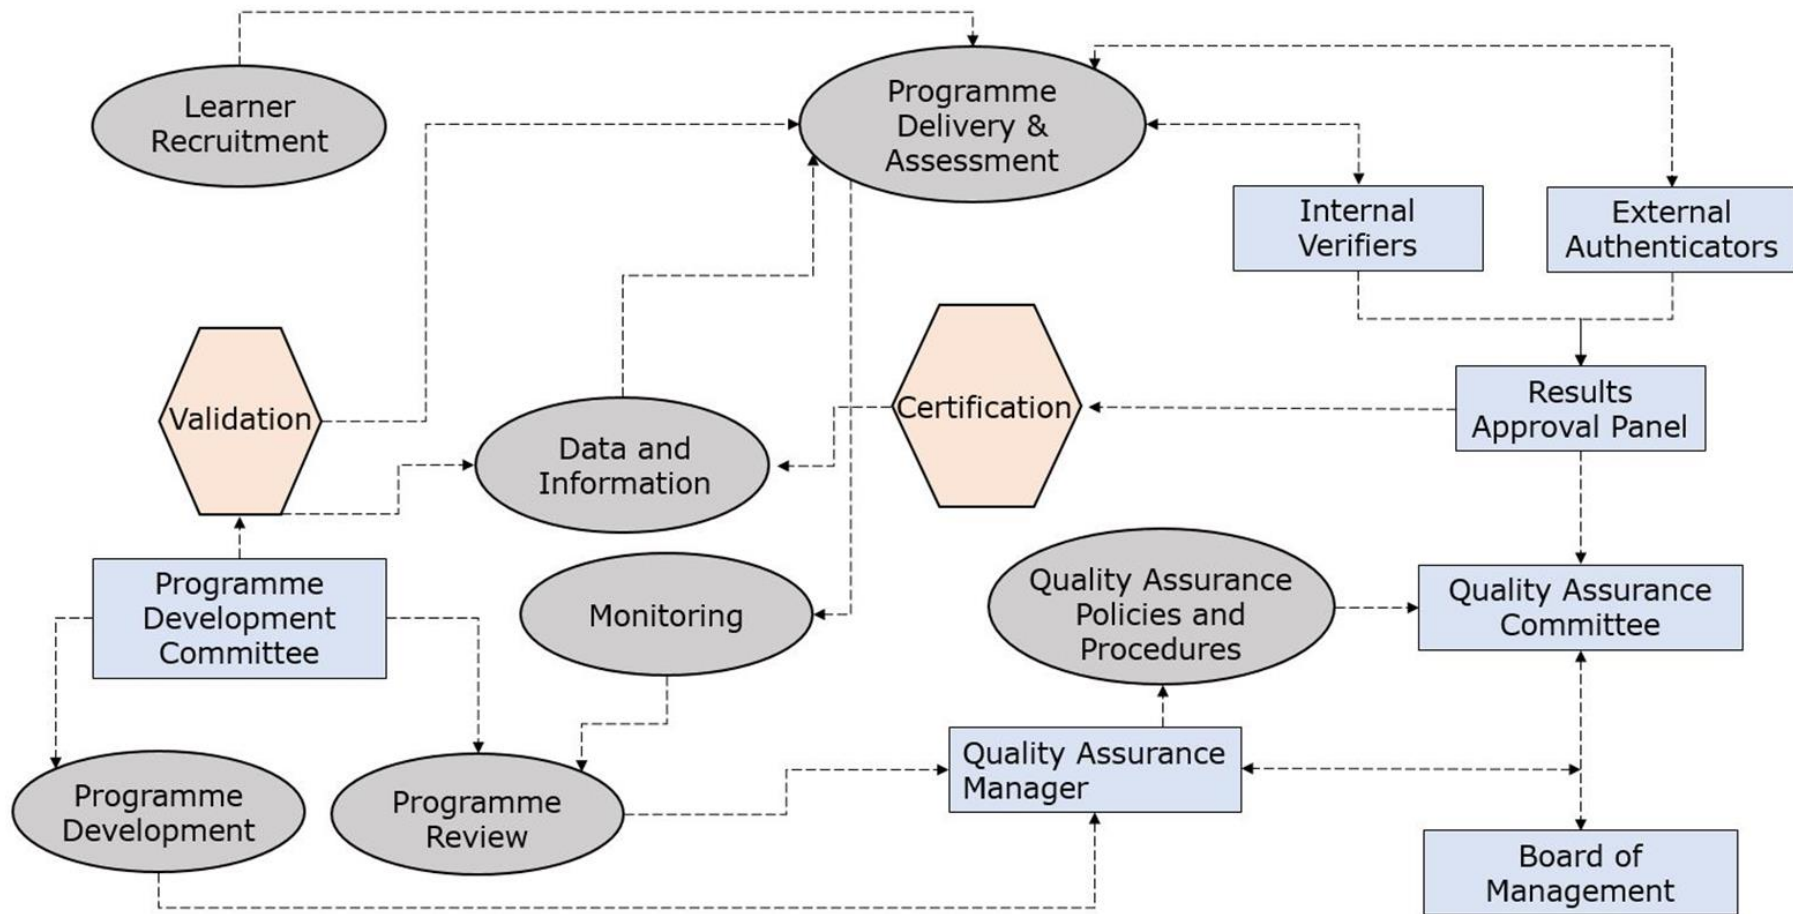

Barrow Training is committed to providing course content, delivery methods, a learning environment and ongoing review to help create participative, active, and meaningful learning for all our learners. We welcome and actively seek learner feedback to help us achieve this.

Barrow Training is committed to ensuring that all programmes are:

1. Developed in line with all policies and guidelines
2. Delivered to the highest standard in a professional, safe, and consistent manner
3. Reviewed on an ongoing basis

Feedback from learners, tutors, staff, and other relevant stakeholders is given priority to ensure Barrow Training continue to identify opportunities for improving the quality of the programmes and the service delivered.

The figure below depicts the interrelationship between operational and governance structures and processes (QF 725).

2.1 Procedure for the Development and Approval of New Programmes

Barrow Training will develop and deliver programmes that are well-structured, relevant to the needs of learners and industry, and reflect the standards as set out by the National Framework of Qualifications (if applicable). This process is guided by the policies and criteria for the validation by QQI of programmes of education and training.

2.1.1 Stages in Design of New Programme

Internal Verification
Identification and proposal of potential new programme	Ideas for new courses are generated from training needs analyses, enquiries database, away days, requests and engagement with learners, clients, employers, tutors, and stakeholders. New legislation is also considered and employment trends.
Agreement from Quality Assurance Committee	When an idea is generated, it is firstly approved by the Quality Assurance Committee. The Quality Assurance Manager will prepare a proposal for the committee and will include programme context, level, rationale, learner demand, competitors (if any), schedule for development and resources and costs associated with development and validation. The Quality Assurance Committee will review the proposal considering Barrow's scope of practice, learner needs, alignment with NFQ, what is currently being offered by other providers and accreditation requirements. See Section 1.3.3 of Quality Assurance Manual for Terms of Reference and Role
Programme Development Committee	If accepted by the Quality Assurance Committee, then it will be passed to Programme Development Committee whose role is to develop the programme and fee schedule. A timescale is decided upon, and this sub-committee will report back Quality Assurance Committee at agreed intervals. See Section 1.3.4 of Quality Assurance Manual for Terms of Reference and Role
Course Development	Learning outcomes of the programme are agreed upon. Access requirements, and transfer and progression pathways are identified for the programme. Additionally, QQI requires the following for programme validation applications; programme descriptor, self-evaluation against QQI criteria, full resource development, assessment briefs and marking sheets, and tutor programme specification. PHECC requires personnel, QA agreement and learner resources. See section 2.2 of Quality Assurance Manual

Evaluation and approval by Quality Assurance Committee	Application is reviewed by Quality Assurance Committee and returned to Programme Development Committee for amendment, if required. QA Committee must approve application before submission to accrediting body.
Submission to Accrediting Body for Validation	Course development materials will be submitted to the relevant body through one of the following methods and required fee will be paid: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Uploaded through QBS with QQI</li> <li>• Uploaded through Recognised Institution (RI) Portal with PHECC</li> </ul>

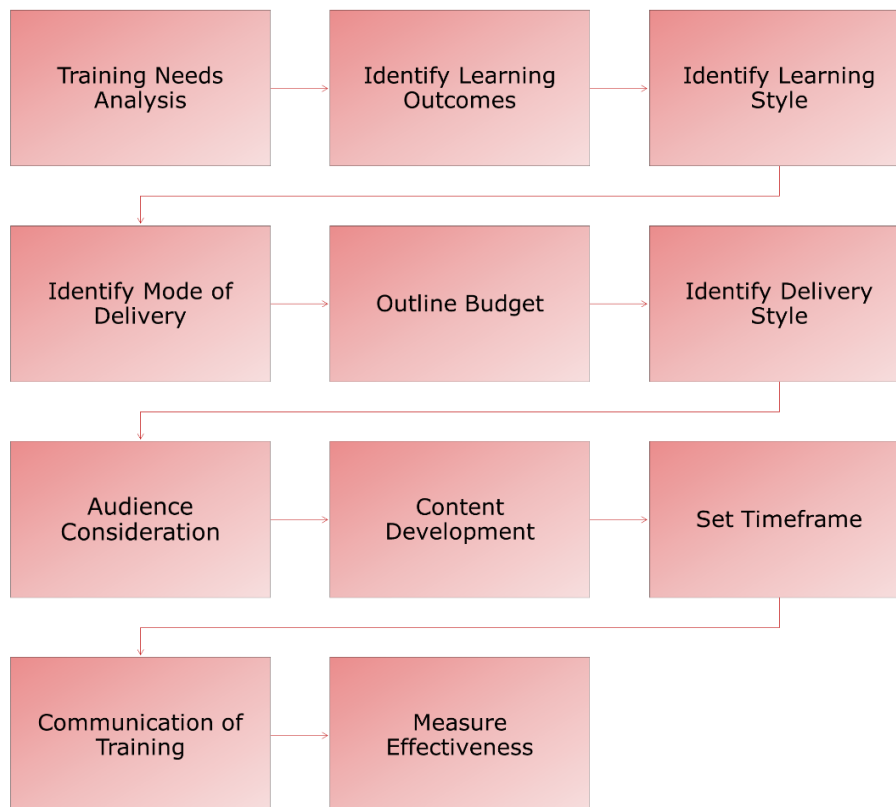

An external assessment from the accrediting body follows this process, ensuring core policies and criteria for the validation of programmes of education and training are met.

Programme Monitoring and Review
Programme Review Committee	The Programme Review Committee is concerned with the quality, standards, and monitoring of QQI and PHECC courses delivered by Barrow Training. They are responsible for the oversight of all QQI and PHECC programmes. The Programme Review Committee will periodically review programmes to maintain standards and ensure compliance and make recommendations to enhance and improve the programmes to ensure they are fit for purpose. They will also provide advice, support and guidance to management, tutors, and staff on the development and delivery of all Barrow programmes. This committee is a sub-committee for the Quality Assurance Committee. The Barrow audit schedule is developed at the beginning of each year. The centre will ensure that all procedures are evaluated at least once in a 12-month period. See Section 1.3.5 for Terms of Reference and Role of Programme Review Committee

2.2 Programme Design

2.2.1 Framework

Barrow Training applies the following framework for the design of a training programme:

Training Needs Analysis	Consider the type of training that is required based on research outlined in 5.1.1.
Identify Learning Outcomes	Set learning outcomes that are performance-based and clear. The end result of the learning outcome can be observable or measured in some way which is reflected in the assessment criteria. These may already be set out by the accrediting body and must align with the relevant award standards.
Identify Learning Style	The training programme is developed to meet the different learning styles of potential learners, i.e. visual, auditory, and kinaesthetic. Different styles may be relevant more than others to a particular type of training, depending on the information being taught.
Identify Mode of Delivery	Training programmes may include a variety of delivery methods, i.e. fully classroom-based or blended learning. Choice of method is based on a number of factors including demand, requirements, and relevance.

Outline Budget	Decide on the financial input of the organisation into the development of this programme, including staffing, consultancy, resources, and fees
Identify Delivery Style	Devise methodology and lesson plans for the programme. This will vary depending on the mode of delivery.
Audience Consideration	Ensure programme is relevant and accessible to the intended audience. Outline learner supports and reasonable accommodations that can be made for learners on the programme.
Content Development	Learning outcomes and methodologies are used to develop the content for the programme by SMEs on the Programme Development Committee. The most up-to-date evidence should be used to advise this content. Assessment criteria are devised to include all learning outcomes. Content for all programmes, blended and classroom-based, are developed with a view to support effective teaching, learning and assessment.
Set Timeframe	Decide on length of training, including directed and self-directed learning hours.
Communication of Training	Communication of training programme via a variety of communication channels, e.g. website, social media, newspaper advertisements, to initiate learner recruitment
Measure Effectiveness	Effectiveness of the training is measured through reaction of the learner and the tutor, and through assessment results which allows us to establish the level of improvement in knowledge, skills, and competence

2.3 Learner Admission, Progression and Recognition

2.3.1 Access

Barrow Training's Admission Policy & Criteria provides clear admission procedures that will be applied consistently and in a fair and transparent manner.

2.3.1.1 Policy Statement

Barrow Training operates an open admissions policy for learners who fulfil the necessary requirements to undertake a course of study offered. Inclusiveness and equality are central to Barrow Training's policy. Barrow Training does not discriminate on any of the grounds outlined in the Equal Status Acts 2000-2015. Barrow Training, in so far as is practicable within its resources, makes special accommodation for learners with disabilities. Barrow Training reserves the right of admission and may decide to modify, postpone, or cancel Learner admission at any time should the need arise.

2.3.1.2 Scope

This policy applies to all prospective learners of Barrow Training and relates to all Barrow Training courses (QQI-accredited, PHECC-accredited, and Barrow-certified).

2.3.1.3 Procedures

A) Policy Implementation

Entry requirements, admission criteria and programme information will be made available. It is the responsibility of applicants to ensure they are fully briefed about their chosen course of study. Applicants will take responsibility for ensuring that they have completed all documentation required for enrolment and paid the necessary fees if applicable. This may include, but is not limited to:

- a completed enrolment form
- a photocopy of personal identification
- a photocopy of any previous qualifications
- proof of English language proficiency (if required)

Applicants will take responsibility for ensuring that they are fully registered on the programme of study. An applicant cannot be considered a learner until they have completed all stages in the registration process.

Applicants will also take responsibility for the accuracy of information supplied. Submitting false or misleading information or documentation can lead to cancellation of admission or expulsion from a programme.

Entry requirements for each of our programmes are listed on our website www.barrowtraining.ie

B) Criteria for Admission

Previous Qualifications: To access programmes leading to a particular award, the learner should have reached the standards of knowledge, skill and competence associated with the preceding level of the National Framework of Qualifications, i.e. in order to access a Level 6 programme, the learner must have achieved a Level 5 qualification.

This may have been achieved through a formal qualification or through relevant life and work experience by submitting an RPL form. See section Applicants must also have a strong interest in their chosen area of study.

Minimum English Language Requirements: Teaching in Barrow Training is through the medium of English. Therefore, learners must demonstrate a high level of competence in the English language to be admitted. Barrow Training's minimum English language requirements apply to all applicants at all levels of study. Learners whose first language is not English must show that they meet a certain standard of English language proficiency. This can be proven through any one of the following methods:

- Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) Level B2 or higher
- Merit or Distinction in the QQI Level 5 modules English as a Second Language 5N1632 or Communications 5N0690
- International English Language Testing System–Academic (IELTS) – Minimum overall band score of 7.0, with a result not less than 6.5 in each of the individual sections
- Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) – Internet Based Test: Minimum total score of 100 out of 120, with a score not less than 22 in

Reading and Listening. Not less than 26 in Speaking and NOT LESS than 24 in the test of written English

- Leaving Certificate results of H7/O6 in English

Applicants must complete the English language proficiency test prior to enrolling on a Barrow Training programme. In all cases the test results must not be more than 2 years old.

Information on accessing a test is available on the Barrow Training website.

Additional Requirements Specific to Learners Engaging in Blended Learning:

Applicants must be self-motivated and have the capacity to take responsibility for their own learning as they progress through a blended learning programme.

Basic computer literacy is required to enrol on a blended learning programme, e.g. opening an internet page, following simple instructions, and creating a Word document. Applicants must also have the following:

- Access to a laptop with functioning camera and audio OR access to a PC with functioning camera and audio (earphones may be required when using PC) OR access to a mobile device with functioning camera and audio
- Strong internet connection
- Microsoft Teams downloaded
- Photo ID in the form of a passport, public service card or driving license

Learners with a Disability, Medical Condition or Learning Difficulty: Under the Equal Status Acts, 2000 to 2015, BTC is fully committed to providing reasonable accommodation to meet the needs of learners with a disability, a significant on-going medical condition or learning difficulty to enable them to successfully complete their programme on an equal footing with other learners.

A reasonable accommodation might be any action that helps alleviate a substantial disadvantage arising from the learner's disability, significant medical condition or learning difficulty, without changing the demands or the integrity of the examination or the programme.

See QF800 Reasonable Accommodation Policy.

C) Selection Procedure

The decision to admit a learner must be based ultimately on an informed judgement that the applicant is competent to begin the course and successfully complete the course.

Barrow Training reserves the right to request an applicant to attend for interview to assess their eligibility for a programme where it deems such action appropriate. Should the numbers enrolling for a programme exceed available capacity, places will be offered to eligible applicants on agreed selection criteria. Applicants who cannot be accommodated due to capacity will be invited to place their names on a waiting list.

Incomplete applications will not be assessed until all information has been received from the applicant.

Fees paid in advance will be returned if, for any reason, an applicant is not offered a place on the programme or if the programme does not run.

D) Enrolment Process

2.3.1.4 RPL Process (Entry)

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) for Entry onto Course

Barrow Training offer guidance and support to assist learners in understanding the RPL process, preparing their RPL Portfolios or evidence and navigating any challenges they encounter.

1. Introduction

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is a process through which individuals with relevant prior experience and learning can enter a Course, even if they do not possess formal education qualifications. At Barrow Training we believe in providing equitable opportunities for all learners to pursue their educational aspirations. This outlines the RPL procedure, guidelines, and criteria for candidates seeking admission to a course based on their prior learning and experience.

2. Purpose of RPL

The purpose of the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) process is to acknowledge and value the skills, knowledge, and experience that candidates have acquired through non-formal and informal learning experiences. This process aims to facilitate the entry of individuals with practical expertise into a Course, recognising their ability to meet the course outcomes without the requirement of formal education qualifications.

3. Eligibility Criteria

To be eligible for RPL consideration for entry onto a Course without prior education qualifications, candidates must meet the following criteria:

- Demonstrate relevant experience: Candidates should provide evidence of practical experience in related roles, such as volunteering, work experience, or responsibilities.

- Provide supporting evidence: Candidates should compile a portfolio of evidence, including documents, testimonials, certificates, and any other relevant materials that showcase their experience and learning.

4. RPL Procedure

The RPL procedure consists of the following steps:

Step 1: Application Submission

Candidates interested in RPL for entry onto a Course should submit a formal application. The application should include details about their relevant experience, a brief statement of intent, and supporting evidence.

Step 2: Portfolio Compilation

Upon receiving the application, candidates may be required to compile a portfolio that highlights their experience, achievements, and any relevant certifications. The portfolio should clearly demonstrate how their prior learning aligns with the course outcomes.

Step 3: Assessment

The Quality Panel will review the submitted portfolio. The Quality Panel will evaluate the evidence provided by the candidate to determine if they meet the required criteria for RPL.

Step 4: Interview (if necessary)

In some cases, the Quality Panel may request an interview with the candidate to further discuss their experience, knowledge, and alignment with the course outcomes.

Step 5: Decision

Based on the assessment and interview (if conducted), the Quality Panel will decide regarding the candidate's eligibility for RPL. Candidates will be notified of the outcome within 14 days.

5. Outcome of RPL

Assessment Option 1:

Successful RPL

Candidates who successfully demonstrate their alignment with the course outcomes through their portfolio and any required interviews will be granted RPL status. They will be eligible to enrol on a course without the need for prior education qualifications.

Option 2: Additional Learning Required

In cases where the Quality panel determines that certain gaps exist in the candidate's prior learning, they may be offered the option to undertake additional learning or assessments to bridge those gaps before enrolling on a course.

6. Conclusion

The Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) process at Barrow Training recognises the value of practical experience and non-formal learning. This process allows candidates with relevant experience to pursue their educational aspirations and contribute meaningfully to the specific field. Barrow Training is committed to ensuring a fair and transparent RPL assessment, fostering inclusivity, and providing opportunities for individuals from RPL.

2.3.2 Induction

Learner induction is mandatory at the start of every programme. The presentation will include:

- ✓ Admission Criteria
- ✓ Submission Policy including deadlines
- ✓ Exam Policy and Code of Conduct
- ✓ Schedule of Submission
- ✓ Referencing
- ✓ Appeals
- ✓ Plagiarism
- ✓ Assessment Process
- ✓ Transfer & Progression
- ✓ Learner Supports
- ✓ PEL – Protection for Enrolled Learners
- ✓ RPL – Recognition of Prior Learning
- ✓ Health and Safety
- ✓ Learner Handbook

Learners must sign a course commencement form (QF20) (Classroom), learners on a blended learning program sign off via Moodle (Badge is awarded), confirming that they understand and agree to Barrow Training's policies and procedures outlined in the induction.

2.3.3 Transfer & Progression

Successful completion of a component award enables the learner to progress to achieve a full major award, or to transfer from one programme of education and training to another programme where the component is a mandatory or an elective requirement.

Different combinations of components lead to different Major Awards. Each component has a credit value, typically between 15 and 30. A Major Award needs 120 credits, made up by combining components. Progression requires a full Level 5 or Level 6 Major Award, with at least 120 credits.

Upon successful completion of a major award, learners can progress to an award on the next level on the NFQ. Alternatively, the Higher Education Links Scheme (HELS) gives learners the opportunity to use their QQI Level 5/6 Major Award to apply through the CAO for a place in the first year of a higher education programme. In some instances, progression is on the basis of specific Level 5 or 6 Major Awards which the learner should check with the higher education institution prior to commencement. Components (Minor Awards), or achievement of less than 120 credits, will not suffice for progression under the HELS.

The learner is responsible for ensuring that Barrow Training is made aware of their wish to apply through CAO prior to commencing the Major Award and is advised in the learner handbook. Barrow Training can then apply to QQI for Major Award status on the learner's behalf, prior to application to the CAO. Learners must check both the individual Higher Education institution and the CAO websites to ensure they meet any special or essential requirements specified, which may include the following:

- A specific Major Award
- A specific grade in specific components
- Additional Award requirements such as mathematics
- That all credits used for scoring purposes are achieved in one 'single sitting' (whilst the Major Award may be achieved over more than one year, it is important to note that some higher education institutions require that the 120 credits are achieved within a 'single sitting' between 1 August and 31 July of any certification year)

Barrow Training commits to supporting learners who wish to transfer or progress to Barrow Training programmes or others leading to an award within the National Framework of Qualifications.

2.3.4 Recognition of Prior Learning

Learners can gain recognition for certified training or education programmes outside of Ireland through National Academic Recognition Information Centre (NARIC) and the National Europass Centre.

Using Recognition of Prior Non-Certified Learning (RPL), Barrow Training can reduce the number of days those participants need to attend a programme based on their previous and current experience and qualifications. There is no change to assessment criteria. To avail of RPL, the learner must be in their current role for a minimum of 2 years and have met some or all of the learning outcomes of the programme in this time. An application form must be submitted to the Quality Assurance Manager which includes a letter of competency from their employer (past or present) stating the exact role and skills relevant to the application. This letter must be on headed paper and signed. The Quality Panel will review the application and inform the learner of their decision in writing within 2 weeks. Barrow Training offer guidance and support to assist learners in understanding the RPL process, preparing their RPL Portfolios or evidence and navigating any challenges they encounter.

2.3.4.1 Exemptions

An exemption may only be claimed for the purpose of and at the time of achieving a major or special purpose class award. This information is provided to learners in their handbook.

In relation to CAS awards, if the component code is on the current award structure, irrespective of when it was achieved, it may be used towards a learner's major award.

Exemptions may also be claimed from other recognised awarding bodies i.e. Universities, Institutes of Technology, State Examinations Commission etc.

2.3.4.1.1 Exemption using a Non-CAS Module RPL Process (Exemption)

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) for Exemptions from Course Components

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) for exemptions is a process designed to acknowledge and appreciate individuals' prior experiences and learning, allowing them to be exempt from specific components of a course. Barrow Training is dedicated to providing fair opportunities, and this document outlines the RPL procedure, guidelines, and criteria for candidates seeking exemptions based on their prior learning and experience.

The purpose of the RPL process for exemptions is to recognise and value the skills, knowledge, and experience that candidates have acquired through non-formal and informal learning. This process aims to facilitate the exemption of individuals with practical expertise from specific course components, acknowledging their ability to meet the relevant outcomes without the need for formal education qualifications.

To be eligible for RPL consideration for exemptions from specific course components, candidates must meet the following criteria:

- Demonstrate Relevant Experience: Candidates should provide evidence of practical experience in areas relevant to the components for which exemptions are sought.
- Alignment with Learning Outcomes: Candidates must demonstrate that their prior learning aligns with the learning outcomes of the specific course components.
- Compile Supporting Evidence: Candidates should create a comprehensive portfolio of evidence, including documents, testimonials, certificates, and other relevant materials showcasing their experience and learning.

RPL Exemptions Procedure: The RPL process for exemptions comprises the following steps:

Step 1: Application Submission Candidates interested in RPL for exemptions from specific course components should submit a formal application, including details about their relevant experience, a brief statement of intent, and supporting evidence.

Step 2: Portfolio Compilation Upon receiving the application, candidates may be required to compile a portfolio highlighting their experience, achievements, and any relevant certifications. The portfolio should clearly demonstrate how their prior learning aligns with the components for which exemptions are sought.

Step 3: Assessment The Quality Panel will review the submitted portfolio, evaluating the evidence provided by the candidate to determine if they meet the required criteria for RPL exemptions.

Step 4: Interview (if necessary) In some cases, the Quality Panel may request an interview with the candidate to further discuss their experience, knowledge, and alignment with the specific course components.

Step 5: Decision Based on the assessment and interview (if conducted), the Quality Panel will decide whether the candidate is eligible for RPL exemptions. Candidates will be notified of the outcome within 14 days.

Outcome of RPL Exemptions Assessment:

- Option 1: Successful RPL Exemptions Candidates successfully demonstrating alignment with the course components through their portfolio and any required interviews will be granted RPL exemptions, allowing them to skip specific course components.
- Option 2: Additional Learning Required If the Quality Panel identifies gaps in the candidate's prior learning, they may be offered the option to undertake additional learning or assessments to bridge those gaps before receiving exemptions.

Conclusion: The RPL process for exemptions at Barrow Training recognizes the value of practical experience and non-formal learning. This approach allows candidates with relevant experience to streamline their educational journey, contributing meaningfully to their chosen field. Barrow Training is committed to ensuring a fair and transparent RPL assessment, fostering inclusivity and providing opportunities for individuals to excel in their educational pursuits.

Appeals process for the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

- If the appeal is successful, the candidate will be provided with instructions on the next steps, including enrolment procedures.

Exhaustion of Appeals:

- The decision of the BOM represents the final stage in the appeals process. Candidates should be aware that this decision is conclusive, and no further appeals will be considered.

The appeals process aims to ensure transparency, fairness, and a thorough review of the RPL decision. Candidates are encouraged to provide clear and relevant information to support their appeal, and all efforts will be made to address concerns in a timely manner.

2.3.4.1.2 Exemption using a CAS Module

Learners who have prior completion of a QQI module and which is relevant to the major award they are working towards must notify the Quality Assurance Manager along with a copy of the QQI certificate and/or final statement of results. Again, the learner must pay particular attention to the date on the certificate to ensure it can be used for the purpose of an exemption. Only those components which are no more than five years old, at the time the exemption(s) is sought, may be used to claim an exemption.

2.3.4.1.3 Holders of a Degree awarded by a National Awarding Body

Learners who hold a degree awarded by a National Awarding Body can apply to receive an exemption from Communications QQI Level 5 5N0690 or Level 6 6N1950 if the certificate has been achieved within the previous five years. If it is older than 5 years, learners can apply for an exemption through RPL.

The learner must inform Barrow Training if they hold such a degree by requesting an RPL application form (QF702). They should then return the completed application form along with a copy of the certificate to the Quality Assurance Manager. The application form and the certificate will be reviewed internally, and the outcome will be confirmed to the learner by email within 14 days.

Work Placement

Work placement is a planned experiential learning activity and is an integral part of any educational process. It involves learners preparing and planning for work, working under direction in a specific vocational area and reviewing and evaluating that work. The experience enables learners to develop work skills, evaluate employment opportunities and cope with changing work environments. Work placement must be completed in an organisation that is relevant to the programme.

2.3.5 Preparation Procedures

It is the learner's responsibility to find a work experience placement. However, when a learner is recruited, they are asked if they require any support/assistance in securing work placement. If so, the information is passed on to the tutor who will advise of organisations that Barrow Training have worked with before and those in the locality. Each learner must be fully registered on a programme and be undertaking the required modules to meet QQI standards. Learners will be made aware of specific requirements for their vocational area by their tutor, e.g. Garda Clearance.

Prior to a learner's commencement of work placement, they must provide the organisation's details to their tutor. The supervisor is provided with a Briefing to Workplace Supervisors form (QF148 – Appendix 2) which outlines the roles and responsibilities of the workplace supervisor which they must sign and agree to participate.

2.3.6 During Work Placement

Successful completion of the QQI work experience module is dependent on completion of a minimum amount of work experience hours (80-120 hours) and satisfactory supervisor's report. Learners should refer to work experience tutor's guidance on this matter.

The workplace supervisor must monitor the learner on work placement for a minimum of 35 hours. Outside of these hours, the learners must be supervised by another team leader or senior staff member. The learner should not work unsupervised at any time during their placement.

The Training & Training & TEL Manager will contact the work placement supervisor to monitor learner progress and address any issues that may arise, e.g. attendance, conduct. Site visits are conducted by tutors and, if necessary, the Training & Training & TEL Manager to the workplace. The Work Experience Monitoring Report (QF683 –

Appendix 3) is completed during a meeting between the Barrow Training representative and the supervisor. The learner is then invited to join the meeting to provide feedback and discuss their learning.

Barrow Training values the relationship with work environments and therefore expects learners to be professional at all times during placement.

Code of Conduct for Learners on Work Experience:

- Be professional in your contacts with service users, staff, and supervisors
- Keep all information obtained on placement confidential
- Any reference to work placement on social media is not permitted
- Obtain permission from service user and supervisor for any information used in assignments/course work
- Take responsibility for your own learning
- Participate in all activities associated with the role
- Read and adhere to all policies and procedures
- Arrive punctually
- Take direction from staff and supervisors
- Contact placement supervisor if unable to attend
- Barrow Training will liaise with the placement supervisor in case any issues have arisen over the duration of the work experience
- The tutor will work with each learner to assess the skills they are acquiring and how they can make the most of the placement opportunity

2.3.7 Completion of Work Placement

Upon completion of the work placement, the supervisor is invited to complete a full report on the overall performance of the learner. For programmes where work placement forms part of the assessment, the result of this report contributes to their overall mark. This report provides evidence that the learner has completed the required hours of placement necessary to meet the criteria of QQI qualification.

Barrow Training respects the final grading of the supervisor regarding learner performance and only in exceptional circumstances will Barrow Training seek justification of marks awarded.

2.3.7.1 ELC Programme Supervised Practice Placement

Work Placement

Work placement is a planned experiential learning activity and is an integral part of any educational process. It involves learners preparing and planning for work, working under direction in a specific vocational area and reviewing and evaluating that work. The experience enables learners to develop work skills, evaluate employment opportunities and cope with changing work environments. Work placement must be completed in an organisation that is relevant to the programme.

2.3.7.2 Preparation Procedures

Learners will have to do 25 Mandatory hours of supervised practice placement in Modules 2,3,4,5, and 7,8,9,10 and a total of 50 hours in modules 6 and 12 which will equate to a total of 150 hours per annum and 300 hours for the overall programme.

It is the learner's responsibility to find a work experience placement. However, when a learner is recruited, they are asked if they require any support/assistance in securing work placement. If so, the information is passed on to the tutor who will advise of organisations that Barrow Training have worked with before and those in the locality. Each learner must be fully registered on a programme and be undertaking the required modules to meet QQI standards. Learners will be made aware of specific requirements.

Prior to a learner's commencement of supervised Practice Placement, Learners must provide evidence of Garda Vetting before going on placement and have completed the current Children First E-learning programme.

Each learner completes 150 hours of practice placement (per annum) in a minimum of two ELC settings: (1) working directly with children aged between 0 and 2 yrs. 8 mts. and (2) working with children 2 yrs. 8 mts. - 6 years; with an appropriate balance between settings.

All settings must be with entities currently registered as service providers with TUSLA and must meet the programme provider's criteria for placements selection.

2.3.7.3 During Work placement

During practice placements learners will have the opportunity to:

- a) Observe experienced practitioners and reflect on these observations
- b) Integrate theory and practice
- c) Apply knowledge and practice
- d) Acquire and demonstrate the required competence, values and work practices with babies, toddlers, and young children in the context of their setting, family, and community under the supervision of more experienced practitioners
- e) Engage in self-reflection and self-evaluation of their own practice and engage in conversations with more experienced practitioners around their practice.

Before the commencement of practice in an approved setting, all the mentioned details are confirmed with the placement through the signing of a contract and agreement with the training provider and learner, ensuring compliance with the outlined requirements.

All learners are provided with code of conduct that must be adhered to during practice placement this is provided in the Placement Handbook.

Each learner is furnished with a code of conduct to be followed throughout their practice placement, which is included in the Placement Handbook.

Throughout the placement, learners and placement settings must facilitate visits from their tutor, as outlined in the placement handbook.

2.3.7.4 Completion of Work Placement

Upon finishing the work placement, the learner is required to complete the placement log in conjunction with the placement supervisor and tutor. They must collectively sign off on the confirmed completion of all tasks by the learner and ensure that the mandatory hours have been met on site. This step is a mandatory component of the program and is necessary to attain the major award.

Chapter 3. Blended Learning

This chapter relates to the following Quality Assurance guidelines from Barrow Training's accrediting bodies:

- QQI Topic Specific Statutory Quality Assurance Guidelines for Providers of Blended Learning Programmes
- Blended Online Learning as an Approach to Deliver PHECC Recognised Courses

3.1 Introduction

This policy outlines the guiding principles for the development and delivery of blended programmes/modules in Barrow Consultancy and Training Ltd. (hereafter Barrow Training). This has been developed as an enabling resource to facilitate the provision of blended programmes and specifies the relevant quality assurance and enhancement measures required to adhere to best practice and relevant quality standards. This policy has been informed by QQI Statutory Quality Assurance Guidelines for Providers of Blended Learning Programmes (March 2018).

The design and implementation of blended learning approaches for educational programmes provides learners with alternative learning pathways in a learner-centred environment that promotes self-directed learning. The self-paced interactive and collaborative aspects of digital technology facilitate the development of coursework and learning resources that are supportive and create a constructive learning environment for learners.

The QQI topic specific guidelines state in the context of the blended and online provision that "it is important that the teaching and learning experience is a positive quality experience, with quality assurance, improvement and enhancement in place" and Barrow Training is committed to this. The guidelines are organised under the following principal headings:

- organisational context
- programme context
- learner experience context

3.2 Definitions

Blended Learning

For the purpose of these guidelines, blended learning is "the integration of classroom face-to-face learning experiences with online learning experiences" (Garrison and Kanuka, 2004) as adopted by QQI.

Online Learning

When referring to online learning, all course content is provided online, with no requirement for classroom-based or face-to-face tuition. Some Barrow Training-certified training is offered via online delivery.

Face-to-Face Learning

Face-to-face learning is defined as classroom-based delivery where a set period of time is spent with a tutor for lectures, discussions, and workshops. This may also include other learners and involve group activities.

3.3 Blended Learning in an Organisational Context

3.3.1 Strategy and Planning for Blended Learning

The vision of Barrow Training is to deepen our relationship with the Healthcare, Childcare, Hospitality, Management and Professional Development sectors by becoming the leading provider of training and training-related consultancy services. An integral component of this strategy is to provide the organisation supports for a blended learning infrastructure. This strategy is implemented at functional and programme level with accountable roles identified to ensure effective and efficient implementation

All procedures for Barrow Training are fit for purpose in the context of blended learning and all the necessary resources are researched and allocated to ensure the additional costs of blended learning provision are considered.

At the organisational level, the provision of blended learning should occur in a context where:

- Appropriate induction and training are provided to staff who design, support, teach and assess blended learning modules
- All legal and regulatory obligations including intellectual property, copyright and data protection are fully adhered to
- Appropriate infrastructure and resources to support high quality provision of blended learning are planned, developed, and evaluated.

3.3.2 Infrastructure and Resources

3.3.2.1 Recruitment

The QA Manager is responsible for the appointment of staff with technical and professional expertise in teaching, learning and assessment appropriate to Blended Learning. The Training & Technology-Enhanced Learning (TEL) Manager, in conjunction with the Quality Assurance Manager, is responsible for the induction, monitoring and professional development of staff specific to Blended Learning provision.

When an academic vacancy arises, a job specification and associated selection criteria for that particular role is devised by the Managing Director and approved by the Board of Management prior to advertising. Candidates are then shortlisted and approved by the Board of Management prior to interviews taking place. All interview candidates are required to provide copies of relevant qualifications and a signed passport photograph which are kept together with their Curriculum Vitae and any other relevant documentation. Please see further information on Blended Learning tutors in Appendix 1.

The Quality Assurance Committee is responsible for the appointment of personnel to appropriate panels i.e. programme development and programme review panels. The Board of Management is responsible for the appointment of panel members to the QAC.

3.3.2.2 CPD and Training Initiatives

The Quality Assurance Committee will lead initiatives to build capacity for CPD. This will include ongoing training and additional support initiatives required by academic and administrative staff to build their digital literacy skills. It will require proportionate expansion and resourcing in line with growing requirements as blended and continues to develop.

The core CPD training will include:

- A comprehensive range of bespoke staff training sessions in Technology Enhanced Learning (TEL)
- Initiatives that guide staff to advance their skills with TEL in a phased manner to continually develop pedagogical approaches and facilitate further progression to innovative practices
- One-to-one guidance and consultation with staff on identifying tools and resources for their teaching and learning requirements and on developing their skills

3.3.2.3 Assessment Venues

Barrow Training will ensure that assessment venues are designed so that they meet the requirement for which they are intended.

Lighting	All rooms will have the lighting appropriate to their use
Accessibility	Access for people with a disability (including special arrangements) where required shall be in accordance with national legislation, or reasonable accommodation made as appropriate. This information will be requested upon enrolment and again upon invitation to classroom-based days.
Health &amp; Safety	All venues will comply with legislative requirements relating to health and safety. This will include insurance, risk assessments, safety statements, escape routes, fire drills, emergency contacts and ensuring this information is communicated to both tutors and learners.
Equipment	Venues for theory assessments and skills demonstrations will satisfy the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Desks/chairs set out in examination format</li> <li>• Space to display clock and examination regulations</li> <li>• Sufficient space and breakout rooms for skills demonstrations</li> <li>• Access to appropriate toilet facilities</li> <li>• Appropriate waiting areas</li> </ul>

The Training & Training & TEL Manager will identify and make booking arrangements with appropriate venues that satisfy the required standards for blended learning programmes in line with QF261 and they also collate learner feedback on venue in line with QF25. See Section 5.2.2 of Quality Assurance Manual for procedure.

3.3.2.4 Information Technology

It is the responsibility of the Training & Training & Training & TEL Manager to ensure that Barrow Training's hardware, software, and learner management system (LMS) is of the highest standard to ensure delivery of online and blended learning.

The information technology of Barrow Training is constantly tested for reliability and security and is updated. Appropriate contingency plans are in place should there be a failure. This is the responsibility of the Training & Training & Training & TEL Manager. In the unlikely event of an LMS, hardware or software failure, the following measures are in place:

- Learner details are kept in a separate password protected and encrypted file which can be accessed by appropriate personnel. This is backed up to the Cloud continuously. Learners can be contacted, and have resources sent to them by email or post, scheduled contact days confirmed, quizzes for formative assessment sent, feedback provided, assignment feedback given.
- Learners are given contact details (phone and email) at induction which can be used for support/advice at any stage during their journey.
- There are alternatives in place for any software used (e.g. plagiarism software, Skype) should the software fail.
- Training & Training & Training & TEL Manager is responsible for contacting all learners if there is any hardware or software failures with details of the updated plan.
- Learners can be contacted through the LMS with updates on downtimes, resources, support, contact details etc

These measures ensure there is no drop-in service to any learner signed up to an online or blended learning programme.

Barrow Training delivers its programmes via a Moodle-Based Learning Management System (LMS) from Enovation. Barrow Training has agreed contingency measures, data processing and Terms of Service for the LMS. The Training & Training & TEL Manager has overall responsibility for the design, implementation, maintenance, security, delivery, and quality assurance of the LMS.

Barrow Training is committed to the use of an LMS that meets the following requirements:

Ease of Use

- Provide a course delivery LMS that is easy to use for learners, faculty, and administrators
- Environment entry point is clear, simple, and welcoming
- Course design facilitates readability
- Course multimedia facilitates ease of use
- Ensure mobile/tablet readable
- Course materials are presented using appropriate formats compatible across computer platform, e.g. pdf, mp3
- Enable upgrades and functionality enhancements as and when appropriate

Security

- Provide a fully secured online learning environment that ensures user confidence and adheres to national and international data protection standards

Accessibility

- Provide a course with accessible text and images in files, documents, VLE pages, and web pages to meet the needs of diverse learners
- Provide a course with an alternative means of access to multimedia content in formats that meet the needs of diverse learners
- Videos and screencasts are closed-captioned
- Audio materials (mp3, wav, etc.) are accompanied by a transcript
- Images are accompanied by text descriptions (Alt text) or captions for images that require a more complex description

Barrow Training is cognisant of the three principles of the Universal Design for Learning (UDL) (CAST, 2019) in ensuring the LMS is accessible to all:

- Provide multiple means of Engagement
- Provide multiple means of Representation
- Provide multiple means of Action and Expression

Copyright

All images used on the LMS are purchased from Deposit Photos and are property of Barrow Training. Developers act in accordance with licensing laws when using content such as images, audio, video, etc. on the LMS.

Multimedia

- Multimedia is produced to a high standard and hosted on an external site such as YouTube
- A wide range of video design approaches are implemented, e.g., presentation slides with voice over, talking head, interview scenario.

Contingency

- Barrow Training have a contractual agreement with an IT company that provide IT support in the case of any malfunction with our IT system. Barrow training also have a support contract with Enovation who monitor and support any IT issues on our Moodle platform.

3.3.2.5 Moodle Workplace Application

The LMS offers learners the opportunity to work online and offline in a time and place that suits them. Learners can download the Moodle Workplace app to their device which allows for the following:

- Access to the learner dashboard
- Browse course content, even when offline
- Instant notifications of messages and other events
- Quickly find and contact other learners on the programme
- Upload images, audio, videos, and other files from a mobile device
- View course grades

Two factor authentication for all Moodle users - before commencing on Moodle learners must now upload a profile picture to their account and also a copy of their photo ID in the form of passport or driver's license. This has been updated for all courses on Moodle QQI and workshops.

3.3.2.6 Migration to New Technology

Annual reviews of Barrow Training technology take place and include feedback from learners, tutors, administrators, and any other stakeholders such as employers and supervisors. These reviews also include the monitoring of new developments in the e-learning area and wider technology environment to assess if and how these applications might enhance the learner, tutor, and administrator experience.

As new frameworks and models emerge from the sector and existing ones evolve, Barrow Training staff and tutors involved in the module delivery will select a model/framework that they find most suitable for their particular learning requirements.

Any migration to a new or different technology (hardware or software) is approved by the Quality Assurance Committee to ensure compatibility with learners' technology and potential down time. All current technology has been tested and approved by the Training & TEL Manager confirming that the appropriate technical support and contingency plans are in place.

3.3.3 Ensuring the Quality of Blended Learning Provision

3.3.3.1 Criteria for Admission to a Blended Learning Programme

Applicants must be self-motivated and have the capacity to take responsibility for their own learning as they progress through a blended learning programme.

Basic computer literacy is required to enrol on a blended learning programme, e.g. opening an internet page, following simple instructions, and creating a Word document.

Learner requirements prior to commencing a blended learning programme:

Access to a laptop with functioning camera and audio OR access to a PC with functioning camera and audio (earphones may be required when using PC) OR access to a mobile device with functioning camera and audio
Strong internet connection
Microsoft Teams downloaded
Be able to provide photo ID in the form of a passport, public service card or driving license

See QF803 Admissions Policy for full list of criteria for admission.

3.3.3.2 Integrity of Assessments

All learners are contacted by the tutor on enrolment for the course. Upon entry to the course, learners have access to online video workshops relating to the following prior to continuing with the programme:

- Barrow Training Learner Induction which outlines policies and procedures of the relevant accrediting body (Mandatory)
- Academic Writing Skills
- Referencing and Plagiarism

Learners must upload their profile picture to the LMS and provide a copy of photo ID which is also uploaded to the LMS. Learners are contacted weekly by their tutor checking their progress and guarding against cheating, plagiarism, or other kinds of unfair advantage. Learners are required to present photographic proof of identification to the facilitator at face-to-face sessions, e.g. exams, skills demonstrations, study groups.

Assessments that are completed online or live online lectures include the following practices:

- Live online lectures are recorded and uploaded to the LMS for learners to access afterwards. Learners verify their identity during live online lectures by entering a breakout room and presenting the tutor with proof of identification. Recording does not take place at this stage and no other learners are present.

- Written protocol is provided to learners for live assessment. The protocol covers information including mobile phones/tablets cannot be used for such sessions as the functionalities are limited, the webcam must be turned on at all times, desk must be clear – the learner must pick up laptop/webcam and show the table to the assessor, and the screen must be shared to allow the assessor to see if access to online sites/files occurs. These assessments are recorded for verification purposes.
- Digital mechanisms for the transfer of learners’ work directly to assessors are approved and tested by Barrow Training to ensure they are secure and reliable
- Learner is issued confirmation of safe receipt of assessment work
- Only enrolled learners are permitted to attend and participate in assessment activities. If another individual is present at the time, they will be asked to leave by the tutor prior to the commencement of the assessment. If they refuse to do so, the assessment will be rescheduled at a fee of €20.

To confirm that learners’ assessment work is their own original work, the following criteria for submission of assessment will apply:

1. A statement and clear instructions about identity fraud and the consequences of academic malpractice that must be signed and agreed to
2. Submission of assessments should incorporate the following:
  - learners must confirm authenticity of own work by selecting an honesty and non-plagiarism box on each submission
  - learners verify their identity by logging into the LMS for the submission of assignments and/or completion of assessments with their private access details, i.e. username and password
  - all assessments uploaded through the LMS will undergo a plagiarism check before being accepted for submission to Barrow Training. This is the work that is corrected by the tutor.

The tutor will report any discrepancies in work submitted to the Training & Training & TEL Manager, who will follow up with the learner. This may include a telephone interview to confirm knowledge, an interview, and request for assessment drafts and rough work.

3.3.3.3 Assuring Quality Technology

It is the responsibility of Barrow Training to monitor and ensure that it becomes and remains a leader in technology-enhanced learning (TEL). Barrow Training has used expertise from industry and educational partners to obtain the best advice on technologies and approaches to online and blended learning.

These include:

- External TEL and FET experts
- Enovation, eLearning Consultants
- Business IT Solutions (BITS)
- University in Galway (NUIG)
- South East Technological University (SETU)

Barrow Training commits to continue investing in the most effective hosting provider which will:

- Greatly reduce or eliminate downtime and provide Barrow Training learners with confidence
- Protect Barrow Training from malicious attack
- Establish managed procedures to ensure rapid recovery from server failure or other data loss

Barrow Training delivers its programmes via a Moodle-Based Learning Management System (LMS) from Enovation. To ensure effectiveness from an organisational, programme and learner context, Barrow Training monitors and reviews the provision of blended learning programmes on a continuous basis.

Tool	Indicators
External Reports	Learning outcomes Learner engagement Support services Programme outcomes EA reports
Learner Surveys	End of course learner evaluation forms Overall learner experience Repeat bookings/referrals Recommendations for improvement
Module Review Reports	Module delivery Learner feedback Learner engagement Achievement of module learning outcomes Certification outcomes Tutor delivery and tutor feedback

Support provided by Enovation is detailed in Appendix 2.

3.3.4 Learners outside Ireland

Irish residents (with a valid PPS number) currently residing outside Ireland can enrol on a BCT programme (virtual or blended learning) as long as that module does not include a work placement element. BCT does not enrol learners outside of Ireland who do not have a relevant/valid PPS number required for QQI certification.

3.3.5 Collaboration and Other Partners

Barrow Training does not engage in any collaborations relevant to its provision of blended learning.

3.4 Blended Learning in a Programme Context

3.4.1 Programme Development and Delivery

Barrow Training will develop and deliver programmes that are well-structured, relevant to the needs of learners and industry, and reflect the standards as set out by the National Framework of Qualifications (if applicable). This process is guided by the Policies and criteria for the validation by QQI of programmes of education and training

3.4.2 Blended Learning Programme Design

Barrow Training implements the ABC curriculum design method for the development of its blended learning programmes. This approach is based on activity-based learning and is structured around designing a course that facilitates six learning types:

- Acquisition – Learners listen to a lecture, presentation, or podcast, watch videos or demonstrations, and read from books or websites
- Inquiry – Learners explore, compare, contrast, and critically analyse the texts, documents and resources that reflect the concepts and ideas being taught
- Practice – Learners adapt their actions to the task goal, and use the feedback to improve their next action
- Production – Tutor motivates learners to consolidate what they have learned by articulating their current conceptual understanding and how they used it in practice
- Discussion – Learners articulate their ideas and questions, and challenges and responds to the ideas and questions from the tutor and/or their peers
- Collaboration – Learners take part in the process of knowledge building itself

ABC Learning Design (Young & Perović, 2018)

The ABC curriculum design method is complemented by the Universal Design for Learning (UDL) – a set of principles for curriculum development that give all individuals equal opportunities to learn, including learners with disabilities. UDL aims to improve the educational experience of all learners by introducing more flexible methods of teaching, assessment, and service provision to cater for the diversity of learners in our classrooms. This is underpinned by the Reasonable Accommodation Policy.

All programmes are piloted by appropriate personnel before released to learners.

The academic standards that inform the design and structure of each module are key to the quality of course and directly impact on the learner experience. Key academic standards include:

- Course overview and introduction
- Learning outcomes
- Assessment
- Learning resources
- Learning activities
- Interaction
- Learner support

(Quality Matters, 2019)

3.4.2.1 Course Overview and Introduction

At the start of a module, there are clear instructions on the structure, layout, purpose, assessment, and participation in the course. Communication expectations for online discussions, email, and other forms of interaction are clearly stated. Minimum technology requirements for the course are clearly stated, and information on how to obtain the technologies is provided. The self-introduction by the tutor is professional and designed to build rapport with the learners.

3.4.2.2 Learning Outcomes

"Learning outcomes are sets of competences, expressing what the learner will know, understand or be able to do after completion of a process of learning, long or short" (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (Key Features), European Commission, 2004)

"Learning outcomes focus on what the learner has achieved rather than merely focussing on the content of what has been taught. Learning outcomes focus on what the learner can demonstrate at the end of a learning activity." (Writing and Using Learning Outcomes: A Practical Guide, D. Kennedy, UCC & NAIRTL, 2007)

The minimum intended programme learning outcomes (MIPLOs) and minimum intended module learning outcomes (MIMLOs), while important and intrinsic to the programme, do not define it. All programmes offered by Barrow Training will have an associated set of MIPLOs and MIMLOs. Learning outcomes at programme and module level will be used as the basis on which decisions regarding teaching, learning and assessment approaches will be used. During the monitoring and review stage, MIPLOs and MIMLOs are reviewed by the Programme Review Committee.

Clear learning outcomes that are measurable and clearly linked to the course learning activities and assessments are presented and explained at the start of the course.

3.4.2.3 Assessments

Digital technology facilitates assessments to be completed online by learners as part of a blended programme. Assessment plays a key role in the learning outcome approach by Barrow Training. Assessment tasks are seen as a primary means of learning and will provide the opportunity for demonstrating the learning outcomes in an integrated and realistic setting. Barrow Training aims to provide a balance of formative and summative assessment in its training and education programmes, including blended learning programmes. The outcomes of these assessments provide an opportunity for the learner to give and receive feedback and aid their progress.

Formative assessments are completed through quizzes and exercises on the LMS, and during classroom-based tutorials, where assessments are usually devised by the tutors, and are usually informal with no associated module marks or weighting. This type of assessment may include group-work exercises in class to include role-play, problem-solving and presentations, quizzes or mock exams, and peer feedback activities. This is an inclusive approach to assessment which supports learners in reflecting on their own learning.

Summative assessments normally take place at the end of a module and measure the extent to which a learner has met the learning outcomes. Examples of this type of assessment include exams, skills demonstrations, assignments, projects, and portfolios. The result of these assessments will contribute to the learners overall grade for the module. Exams and skills demonstrations are completed during face-to-face classroom-

based time, while assignments, projects and portfolios can be securely submitted to the tutor for correction on the LMS. These assessments are subject to a plagiarism check on the LMS, provided by Viper Plagiarism Checker (scanmyessay.com). The report generated from this check must show less than 17% matching content.

The module grading policy is stated clearly in the learner induction at the beginning of the module. The assessments used are sequenced, varied, and suited to the level of the course. The module provides learners with multiple opportunities to track their learning progress with timely, high-quality feedback. A detailed assessment brief is provided so that all learners in the module know what they are expected to do. Consistency of style and structure across different assignment briefs is also important such that learners can easily navigate those documents and not miss key information on their assessment.

3.4.2.4 Learning Resources and Materials

The module resource pack is provided to each learner in pdf form, and content is also presented in units on the LMS. These units are made up of groups of learning outcomes and contain quizzes and exercises that form the learners’ formative assessment. Active learning is encouraged using questions, activities, and encouraging discussion of topics with other learners. The learning resources represent up-to-date theory and practice. Visual design is simple and organised, with a clean page design that supports clarity and understanding. Consistency of style and structure across learning resources/content is also important such that learners can easily navigate resources/content.

Once content is developed for a particular module, this requires attention and work over time to ensure its currency as well as simple upkeep to fix identified errors, broken weblinks, etc. An annual audit of each module is planned and conducted by the Quality Assurance Manager in conjunction with the Training & Training & TEL Manager. Issues are logged in the Incident database.

Additional resources for face-to-face days include the following:

- Projector and screen
- Laptop/mobile device
- Whiteboard and/or flipchart
- Webcam

Skills demonstration equipment varies by module and the Programme Development Committee consider this early in the process. A resource list is drawn up for each module to ensure that skills demonstrations that cannot be completed in the workplace can be completed via a role play method onsite.

Many skills demonstrations include the use of the KERi mannequin, a life-size human mannequin model for training. KERi has a range of motions, realistic client positioning, non-pinching joints and can be used for male and female client skills demonstrations to demonstrate clinical skills.

Learner requirements prior to commencing a blended learning programme:

Access to a laptop with functioning camera and audio OR access to a PC with functioning camera and audio (earphones may be required when using PC) OR access to a mobile device with functioning camera and audio
Strong internet connection
Microsoft Teams downloaded
Be able to provide photo ID in the form of a passport, public service card or driving license

3.4.2.5 Learning Activities

The following methodologies will be implemented for the delivery of blended learning programmes with Barrow Training:

- Online tutorials
- Learner Management System
- One-to-one support by:
  - Email
  - Meetings via Microsoft Teams
- Group meetings and discussions via Microsoft Teams
- Study and revision days
- Online exercises
- Practical sessions to include role-play scenarios
- Simulated environments on skills demonstration days

3.4.2.6 Interaction

Barrow Training is cognisant of the Universal Design for Learning and uses interactive material to engage learners in the virtual learning environment.

Over 200 templates have been designed by a graphic designer for use in the VLE to be visually engaging, promote consistency and to integrate audio, video, and learner activities to enhance the overall learning experience. Module design features such as facilitator photos and video introductions, a community forum for learners, and collaborative learning activities can facilitate social presence and enable learner-instructor and learner-learner interaction.

Minimum levels of alternative formats are set out for all courses to provide multiple means of engagement to promote inclusivity in the learning environment for all learners.

3.4.2.7 Community Forum

The LMS includes a discussion forum for each module which can be accessed by both learners and tutors. The purpose of the discussion forum is for learners to ask questions about their course content, engage with fellow learners and respond to questions raised by tutors. The forum is monitored by the Training & Training & TEL Manager – all comments must be approved prior to publishing.

Positive online behaviours are encouraged, and the following 'netiquette' (internet etiquette) applies to the discussion forums on the LMS:

1	Respect the opinions of other learners. Disagree respectfully and acknowledge the valid points in the other learner's argument. Acknowledge that others are entitled to have their own perspective on the issue.
2	Avoid sarcasm as it can be difficult to get tone across on an online platform
3	Try not to distract other learners with off-topic discussions
4	Before posting a question to a discussion forum, check if anyone has asked it already and received a reply
5	Always try to use proper punctuation, spelling, and grammar. It's also important to be reasonable about others' grammar mistakes.
6	Set a respectful tone. A certain level of formality is expected in this communication. Remember to say "please" and "thank you" when soliciting help from tutors or other learners.

7	Do not type in ALL CAPS as readers tend to perceive it as shouting
8	When replying to a question from another learner, make sure the answer is accurate
9	Be responsive to queries to show interest

Abusive or offensive comments will not be tolerated. The forum should not be used to:

1	Abuse, harass, stalk, threaten or violate the rights of others
2	Post illegal material
3	Solicit personal information
4	Harm minors in any way
5	Solicit passwords of personal identifying information for commercial or unlawful purposes
6	Post material that contains software viruses or harmful programmes such as trojan horses, worms, time bombs, computer code or files designed to interrupt, destroy, or limit the functionality of any computer software or hardware
7	Post material that falsely expresses or implies that such material is endorsed by Barrow Training
8	Post irrelevant material
9	Post any unsolicited or unauthorised advertising, promotional content, junk mail, spam, chain letters or any other form of commercial publicity.
10	Post material that contains violence or offensive subject matter or contains a link to an adult website
11	Post material that promotes or encourages illegal activity

A learner found to be in breach of the above may be removed from the LMS and can lead to expulsion from a programme.

3.4.2.8 Classroom-Based Days

Learners on blended learning programmes are invited to classroom-based days which involve a variety of the following:

- Practical skills demonstrations and assessments
- Exam (if applicable)
- Face-to-face tutor support
- Group revision and study sessions

Learners completing their QQI- or PHECC-accredited training and education programmes through blended learning are invited to a classroom-based assessment day, where they will meet with their tutor for assessment of knowledge and practical skills.

Classroom-based days for learners completing a blended learning programme are scheduled one day per month by the Training & Training & TEL Manager. Offsite classroom-based days are organised as required.

All practical skills demonstrations that take place on these classroom-based days are demonstrated initially by the tutor, then practiced by the learner before final assessment takes place. Skills demonstrations that form part of the assessment are photographed or, preferably, video recorded to be presented as evidence. If the module includes a skills assessment, learners sign a consent form which confirms that they understand that video recordings/photographs of their skills demonstration will be submitted as part of their assessment for certification in line with GDPR requirements.

Evidence of skills demonstrations are stored in an encrypted file and made available only to those involved in the certification process, i.e. tutor, internal verifier, external authenticator, and results approval panel. The maximum timeframe for these to be stored is nine months. After this time, skills demonstrations are deleted from the Barrow Training system. Learners who complete skills demonstrations in the workplace must also present video/photographic evidence, as appropriate.

First Aid Response (PHECC-accredited) training delivered via blended learning requires one virtual training day delivered via Microsoft Teams (see timetable in Appendix 3) and one classroom-based day (see timetable in Appendix 4). Learners must have 100% of the theory completed on Moodle having spent a minimum of 12 hours on the platform before being invited to these training days. A maximum of 8 learners are invited to each training day. Learners must attend the first day of virtual training prior to attending the classroom-based day. The first session includes the revision of the skills objectives as outlined by PHECC, as well as tutor demonstrations of the relevant skills. The classroom-based day involves learners practicing the skills before being assessed on them by the tutor using the skills assessment sheets. All required equipment will be provided to the learners onsite. The MCQ examination will also take place at the end of this second day. A score of 60% is required to be successful in this examination.

All examinations held in Barrow Training adhere to the procedures and standards that are required by the respective awarding body. Exam papers are provided to the tutor in a sealed envelope and stamped with the Barrow Training stamp. The exam date must be clearly written on the envelope along with the statement "must be opened and witnessed in class". The version used is logged on the Barrow Training system and the versions of exams are alternated. This envelope must be stored securely by the tutor.

Learners are made aware of the exam code of conduct during their induction, and this is reiterated to the learners immediately prior to the exam. Tutors must then return corrected exams to the Barrow Training office in person or by registered post. Any spare exam papers are also returned and are shredded and destroyed.

If a learner is unsuccessful in their examination, they may repeat the exam within two weeks of their first attempt (maximum of 3 attempts). If the learner requires a repeat examination for a QQI module, their grade will be capped at a Merit. This may result in postponement of Certification until the next submission date. An administration fee of €50 applies per additional sitting.

3.4.2.9 Virtual Classroom Scenario

Microsoft Teams or Zoom is used by Barrow Training to offer one-to-one support between learners on a blended learning programme, to facilitate group meetings and discussions, and to complete skills demonstrations. Where existing company policy may prevent us from using Microsoft Teams, an alternative method of delivery would be sought, e.g. Zoom. Live online lectures are recorded and uploaded to the LMS for learners to access afterwards.

The learner(s) will remain in the 'waiting room' until access is granted by the tutor or a Barrow Representative. Learners then verify their identity in the virtual classroom by entering a breakout room and presenting the tutor with proof of identification. Recording does not take place at this stage and no other learners are present.

An email invitation is issued to the learner, along with the instructions in Appendix 3.

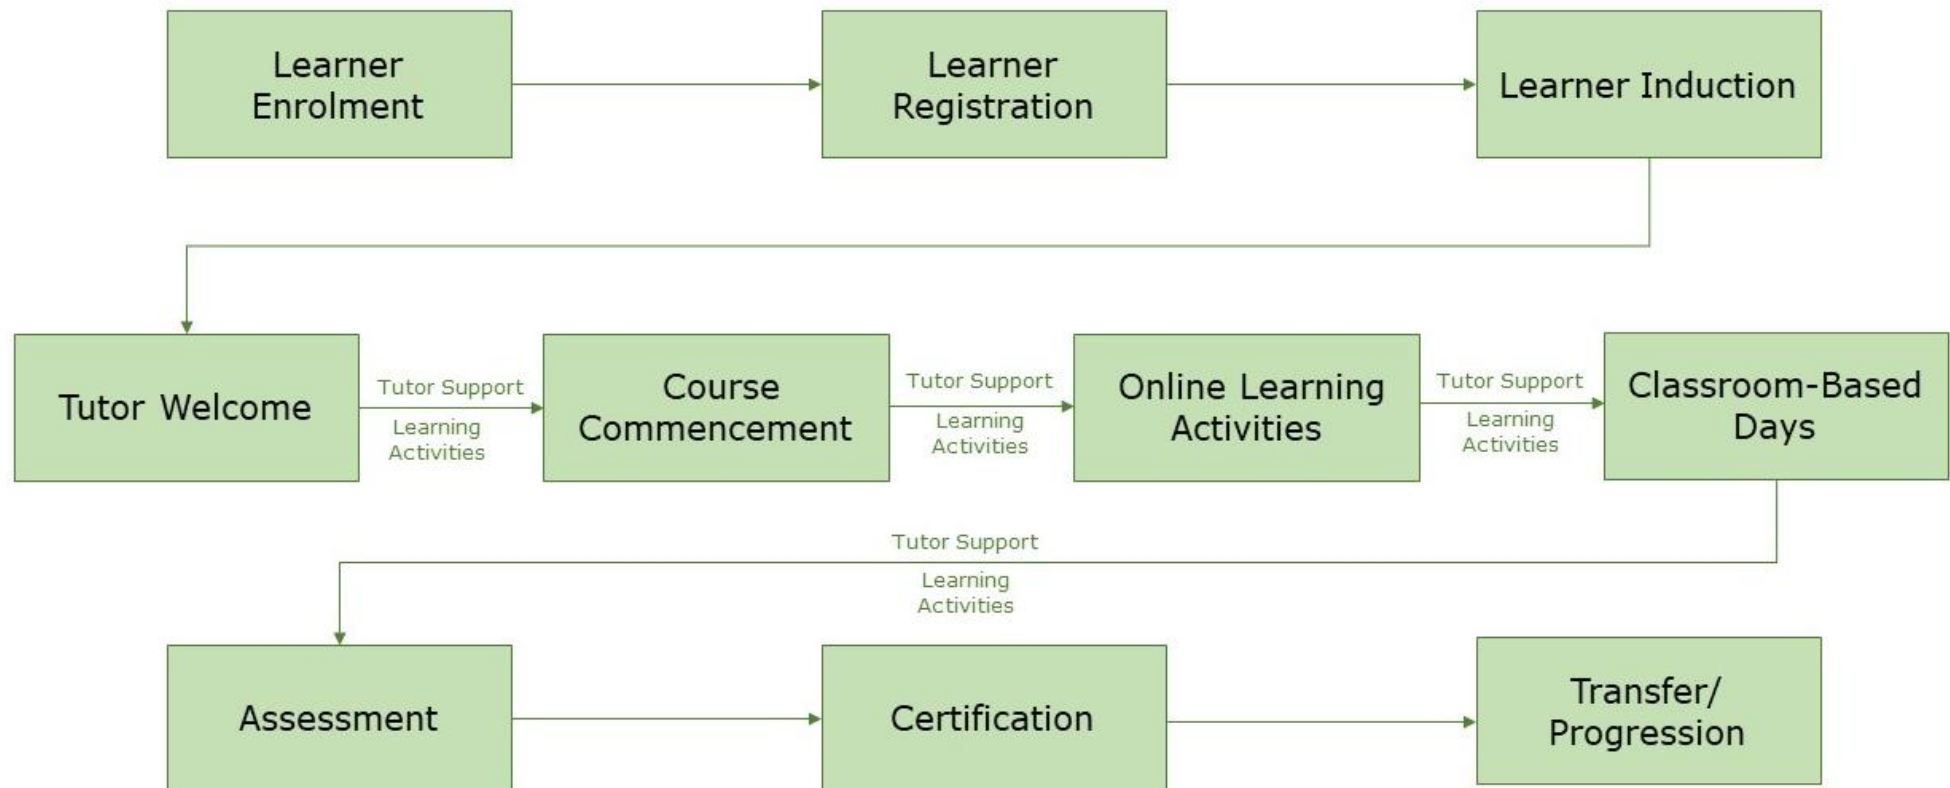

It will be decided with the tutor and individual/group at the beginning of the meeting when breaks will take place, but it is advised that a break is taken every 60-90 minutes for 10-15 minutes. It is important to step away from the screen at the opportunities provided to prevent dry eyes, to use the bathroom, have a snack, etc.

If a learner does not return after a break or leaves during the meeting, they will be signed out by the tutor and marked as absent.

3.5.2 Support Available to Learners

3.5.2.1 Induction

Prior to enrolment on a blended learning programme, learners are provided with an induction to the programme. This includes, but is not limited to, the nature and extent of autonomous learning, collaborative and supported aspects of learning, details of specified timings for synchronous learning or assessment, rules governing flexibility for learners, and regulations in place to protect learner information.

The learner induction will also specify requirements for access to the online learning environment – detailing the required broadband specification and any specific hardware or software requirements, for example.

The learner induction will provide information on the level and nature of support available, including but not limited to academic, technical, and pastoral support.

Further detail will be offered to learners in the Learner Handbook.

3.5.2.2 Badges

Badges on the LMS are used to motivate learners. They are an electronic way to demonstrate that the learner has completed a specific section of the programme and are assigned to a learner's personal account. Moodle badges may be awarded based on a variety of criteria chosen by the Training & TEL Manager.

Badges are currently awarded on the LMS for completion of the following:

- QQI Learner Induction
- Introduction to Blended Learning
- Academic Writing and Referencing
- Course Completion

The Training & TEL Manager has access to the badges in a course and the recipient list of who earned each badge, and when they received it.

3.5.2.3 Technical Support

Technical support on the LMS is available from the Training & TEL Manager by contacting support@barrowtraining.ie. All emails are responded to within 12 hours.

The Training & TEL Manager is notified at each stage of a learner's and tutor's progress throughout the LMS. See Appendix 4 for full list of notifications received by the Training & TEL Manager.

Enovation offer 24/7 technical support to the Training & TEL Manager.

3.5.2.4 Security

Learners will be assigned a private username and password for secure access to their personal account on the LMS. This will be issued to the email address provided at enrolment.

If a learner has forgotten their password or inputs their password incorrectly, they will be prompted to reset their password. The link provided will be sent directly to the learner's email address.

Chapter 4. Human Resources Management

This chapter relates to the following Quality Assurance guidelines from Barrow Training's accrediting bodies:

- Staff Recruitment, Management and Development (QQI Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guideline 4)
- Other Parties involved in Education and Training (QQI Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guideline 10)
- Human Resource Management (PHECC Quality Assurance Theme 3)

4.1 Policy Statement

Barrow Training is committed to ensuring procedures for recruitment and selection of staff will ensure they are suitably qualified and skilled. Barrow Training will ensure that all staff are reviewed and provided with constructive feedback and encouraged to engage with Continuing Professional Development (CPD). Barrow Training have commissioned the services of a HR Consultant, to aid the implementation of this policy.

4.2 Recruitment and Selection Procedure of Academic and Administrative Staff

Vacancies arise among administrative staff based on changing or additional organisational needs as identified by the Board of Management, while vacancies arise among academic staff based on programme requirements as identified by the Quality Assurance Manager or Training Manager. When an academic or administrative vacancy arises, a job specification and associated selection criteria for that particular role is devised by the Director of Training and approved by the Board of Management prior to advertising. Posts will be advertised in regional newspapers, on the Careers section of the Barrow Training website, social media platforms, and online recruitment websites. Candidates are then shortlisted and approved by the Board of Management prior to interviews taking place.

All interview candidates are required to provide copies of relevant qualifications and a signed passport photograph which are kept together with their Curriculum Vitae and other relevant documentation such as interview sheet.

Selection criteria for Barrow Training administration staff as follows:

- Qualifications – Staff members must have a qualification in a relevant field
- OR
- Experience – Staff members must have minimum 2 years work experience in a relevant field
- Reference checks – Minimum two references must be provided. Referees will be contacted by members of the Board of Management prior to appointment.

Selection criteria for Barrow Training tutors as follows:

- Qualifications – Tutor must have minimum QQI Level 6 Special Purpose Award in Training & Development/Train the Trainer or equivalent pedagogical qualification, e.g. First Aid Response Instructor, Instructing Manual Handling qualification. This must supplement a qualification in the tutor's specific area of expertise, minimum one level above the level of delivery. Best practice would require a minimum Level 8 degree in the area.

- Experience – Tutors must have minimum 2 years training experience prior to delivering accredited programmes for Barrow Training. This can be offered to new tutors in the form of non-accredited programmes. Tutors delivering blended learning programmes must have demonstrated excellent IT skills.
- Reference checks – At least two referees must be contacted. References will be based on training delivery experience. In the event of new tutors with no previous experience, an academic and/or character reference will be required.

Tutors are not employed on a full contract of employment basis. Tutors are advised during induction that Barrow Training cannot guarantee work, the hours are part time on an ad hoc basis as required.

A large tutor panel exists for each area of expertise within Barrow Training's scope which allows Barrow Training to cater for situations where a tutor originally due to deliver training is no longer available. Emergency out of hours contact information is provided to tutors on induction should these situations arise. The following contingency measures are in place should the need arise:

- Tutor contacts Barrow Training & TEL Manager to advise of inability to deliver training as scheduled
- Training & TEL Manager contacts all inducted and qualified tutors to check availability for cover
- Training & TEL Manager provides new tutor with full programme briefing via Microsoft Teams/Zoom or by phone

4.3 Induction, Training and CPD

4.3.1 Induction Process

Prior to commencement of employment, it is mandatory for all tutors to complete an induction process. The tutor must attend an induction workshop which includes a presentation outlining role and responsibilities, policies and procedures, and code of conduct. This is further detailed in a handbook which is part of the induction pack presented to the tutor on the day. Introduction to QQI and PHECC programmes forms an integral part of the induction process. Induction for tutors is completed on the first day of employment by the Quality Assurance Manager. Tutor inductions are scheduled once per quarter, or as required, and are facilitated by the Quality Assurance Manager. An induction checklist is completed and maintained to safeguard compliance with all aspects of this procedure and a declaration confirming understanding and agreement must be signed following this induction.

Any updates made to the system are communicated to tutors by email, followed up with a meeting, and in the quarterly newsletter, followed up with a meeting.

During the induction workshop, tutors will be asked to review the official programme documents together with all associated material such as learner handouts and assessment briefs. To ensure that the tutor has a clear understanding of the assessment standards required, they may be asked to assess an assessment element (project or case study) using specific grading criteria. The grade and associated marking scheme are reviewed by the Quality Panel and feedback is provided. Further assessment material may be cross moderated until such time that the required grading standard is met by the tutor. If a tutor does not meet the requirement of minimum 2 years training experience prior to delivering accredited programmes for Barrow Training, they will be monitored regularly by the Quality assurance Manager.

If the tutor is employed to deliver training via blended learning, tutors receive an induction from the Training & Training & TEL Manager in addition to the induction delivered by Quality Assurance Manager. This covers the processes and procedures relevant to this mode of delivery. A separate checklist is completed and stored in the employee's file.

The Assistant Manager and Quality Assurance Manager will have the responsibility of verifying the authenticity of a potential tutor's qualifications and references.

4.3.2 Staff Training and CPD

Barrow Training will ensure that all staff are reviewed and provided with constructive feedback and encouraged to engage in Continuous Professional Development. Barrow Training will foster a culture of enthusiasm for CPD for all staff, academic and administrative. This will be achieved by each staff member having an Annual Performance Review with an Individual Learning and Development Plan.

Barrow Training will also organise relevant CPD workshops, training, and networking events as it sees fit. Where necessary, specific training to support programme or organisational development is organised by Barrow Training. All tutors are also offered the opportunity to attend any Barrow Training programme. Tutors are expected to keep up to date with research and changes in legislation in their area of expertise.

A tutor training day in each category, e.g. hospitality, healthcare, childcare, is organised by Barrow Training at least once a year. All staff involved in the delivery of these programmes are expected to attend and make suggestions on items to be included on the agenda. The event usually includes workshops, presentations and discussions between Barrow staff, programme leaders and tutors. This provides the opportunity for tutors to provide feedback and suggestions for programme improvements, as well as to engage with others in their field of learning. This day is scheduled with plenty of advance notice to ensure availability and involvement of as many tutors as possible.

Statistics/trends in relation to assessment results identified by the external authenticator, results approval panel and/or QA Committee are discussed, and action taken, if required. All who attend are asked to complete an evaluation form and provide suggestions for future events. Details of attendance of such training and other relevant information is added to the tutor's CPD log.

Tutors receive a quarterly newsletter from Barrow Training which is compiled and issued by Administration Support & Marketing. This includes updates on the organisation, legislation, learner and tutor resources, networking events or upcoming training.

4.4 Performance Management

The purpose of procedures in this area is to ensure that tutors receive constructive feedback on their performance in order to allow them to identify key strengths and areas for improvement and agree action plans where necessary.

4.4.1 Monitoring Effectiveness of Tutors

A number of feedback mechanisms are used in the monitoring of effectiveness of tutors:

- Learner end of course evaluation forms
- Tutor end of course evaluation form
- Monitoring reports from QA manager
- Cross moderation and second marking exercises
- Attendance/retention rates
- Internal verification reports
- External authenticator reports
- Company feedback (for programmes delivered in-house)
- Performance review
- Peer review

In addition to the formal methods of evaluation above, tutors are asked to review learner course assessments during the programme and at the end of each programme. This affords the tutor the opportunity to reflect on and review the effectiveness of their work and seek improvement, as well as providing ongoing review of the programme content. The Training & TEL Manager will identify any adverse course performance and any issues are logged as a non-conformance in the incident database.

4.4.1.1 Supports for Poorly Performing Tutors

The Director of Training will discuss the shortcomings with the tutor and an action plan will be put in place to address any issues to include shadowing and further training. Subsequent feedback is noted to evaluate if improvements have been made. All records of interventions and supports (formal and informal) are retained by Barrow Training.

Any tutor who fails to meet the required standards for the position following application of formal and informal interventions will be subject to dismissal by Barrow Training.

4.4.2 Disciplinary Procedure

4.4.2.1 Purpose

The purpose of the disciplinary procedure is help and encourage all employees to achieve and maintain standards of conduct and performance by making them aware of any shortcomings and identify how the necessary improvements can be achieved. The objective of such a procedure is to give employees the opportunity to improve their behaviour/performance.

The delivery of a high-quality service requires all employees to adhere to high standards of work performance, conduct and attendance. All employees are made aware of the standards of attendance, work and conduct expected from them and for dealing with shortcomings promptly and fairly. In general, the employee's immediate Manager will deal with deficiencies on an informal basis through discussion, appropriate assistance, and informal counselling rather than through the formal disciplinary procedure. If, following the informal counselling stage, the employee continues to fail to meet the required standards then the disciplinary procedure should be invoked. Depending on the severity of the complaint in any individual case, the Company reserves the right to skip a step or steps of the procedure.

An employee will have the right to appeal against any disciplinary penalty.

4.4.2.2 Scope

This policy applies to all Barrow Training & Consultancy Ltd. employees and aims to ensure consistent and fair treatment for all. The full disciplinary procedure applies only to those who have successfully passed their review period. This procedure is intended as a statement of current Company policy and commitment to operating a fair and consistent procedure in relation to all its employees, considering the Code of Practice on Disciplinary Procedures may be amended from time to time. The Company reserves the right to amend the procedure as necessary in line with any amendments made to the Code of Practice.

4.4.2.3 Procedure

Pre-procedure stage – informal counselling

Counselling is an informal method of dealing with shortcomings in an employee's attendance, work or conduct without invoking the formal disciplinary procedure. The objective of the counselling is to ensure that employees understand what is expected from them and to provide an opportunity to discuss any aspects of the job which may be causing them difficulties. Counselling alerts the employee to his/ her shortcomings and is an opportunity to decide what measures should be taken to bring about the required improvements.

1. The line manager/supervisor or nominee will request an informal meeting with the employee to discuss performance, attendance or conduct issues
2. The employee shall be given precise details of the specific aspects of his/ her attendance, work or conduct that requires improvement
3. The employee shall be given an opportunity to respond, and careful consideration shall be given to any explanations given.
4. Having made the employee aware of deficiencies in his/her attendance, work or conduct, the employee's line supervisor/manager or nominee shall identify any measures that can be taken to assist the employee and formulate an agreed action plan for achieving improvements.
5. Details of the counselling interview and any follow up action agreed shall be documented and signed by both parties

Investigation

If the necessary improvements have not been made by the employee, despite informal counselling, the supervisor/manager or nominee may request an investigation meeting with the employee and HR. Following this meeting a decision will be made as to whether the matter will be brought through the formal disciplinary procedure. This will be communicated in writing to the employee.

11. Where an appeal against dismissal fails, the effective date of termination shall be the date on which the employee was originally dismissed.

Gross Misconduct

In cases of gross misconduct, the company may immediately dismiss an employee without recourse to all of the steps as outlined above in the disciplinary procedure. In cases where it is warranted, the company may suspend an employee with pay in order to facilitate an investigation. Suspension with pay is a precautionary measure and not a disciplinary sanction. During any period of suspension an employee will be refused access to any of the Company's premises without the prior consent of the Company and will be subject to such other reasonable conditions as the Company may impose.

Following investigation and appropriate disciplinary process, the company may decide either to impose another form of discipline, such as suspension without pay and/or final written warning without recourse or termination.

Gross Misconduct is an act of misconduct which is considered serious enough to result in summary dismissal. Summary dismissal is dismissal without notice or payment in lieu of notice.

The following list includes (but is not confined to) examples of the circumstances which will be regarded as 'Gross Misconduct'. Please note that this list is not exhaustive.

4.5 Equality, Diversity & Inclusion

Chapter 5. Teaching, Learning and Assessment

This chapter relates to the following Quality Assurance guidelines from Barrow Training's accrediting bodies:

- Teaching and Learning (QQI Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guideline 5)
- Assessment of Learning (QQI Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guideline 6)
- Learning Environment (PHECC Quality Assurance Theme 2)

5.1 Teaching and Learning Strategy

The strategy for teaching and learning at Barrow Training is designed to achieve learner-centred learning that empowers individual learners and ensures continuously evolving innovative approaches to teaching and learning, support and guidance structures and programmes.

The overall approach to teaching and learning will integrate core principles of adult education:

- Acknowledge the prior experience of the learner and integrate this experience into the learning process
- Reflection as an integrated and active process
- Learners take ownership and responsibility for their own learning
- Formative assessment and feedback where learners will be given the opportunity to discuss their own performance and plan improvements for future efforts
- Constructive pedagogy where knowledge is created together, and all theories/models are subject to critique of real-life application

The foundations for Barrow Training's Teaching and Learning Strategy are:

- Learning outcomes
- Establishing a learner-centred culture
- Ensuring fairness and consistency
- Promoting the continuous improvement of the learning process

5.1.1 Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes are sets of competences, expressing what the learner will know, understand or be able to do after completion of a process of learning, long or short (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (Key Features)”, European Commission, 2004)

Learning outcomes focus on what the learner has achieved rather than merely focussing on the content of what has been taught. Learning outcomes focus on what the learner can demonstrate at the end of a learning activity. (Writing and Using Learning Outcomes: A Practical Guide”, D. Kennedy, UCC & NAIRTL, 2007)

The minimum intended programme learning outcomes (MIPLOs) and minimum intended module learning outcomes (MIMLOs), while important and intrinsic to the programme, do not define it. All programmes offered by Barrow Training will have an associated set of MIPLOs and MIMLOs. Learning outcomes at programme and module level will be used as the basis on which decisions regarding teaching, learning and assessment approaches will be used. During the monitoring and review stage, MIPLOs and MIMLOs reviewed by the Programme Review Committee.

5.1.2 Establishing a Learner-Centred Culture

Barrow Training will equip learners with the knowledge, skills, and competencies to be employable and to ensure that they are prepared for career flexibility and progression in their chosen field. Barrow Training will engage, stimulate, and challenge learners to prepare them to learn independently and think critically.

- Barrow Training will continuously update its Quality Assurance policies and procedures to reflect a learner-centred approach
- Barrow Training will ensure that the number of learners participating on a programme is manageable (maximum 16 learners) so that individual learner attention is safeguarded
- Barrow Training will establish a centre for teaching and learning. This will provide, resources, training and guidance on teaching and learning e.g. tutor CPD meetings, tutor newsletters, networking events

5.1.3 Ensuring Fairness and Consistency

All Barrow Training learners will be treated with fairness and consistency while responding to the individual needs of learners, in line with the Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Policy. Barrow Training will promote a culture of continuous reflection and planning on teaching and learning strategies to achieve an appropriate mix of teaching and learning styles, methods of assessment, and organisation of courses.

Equality seeks to advance equality of opportunity in access to employment or a programme of study, training, development, and career opportunities without any direct or indirect discrimination, or conscious or unconscious biases. Equality is ensuring individuals or groups of individuals are not treated less favourably, on the basis of the 9 grounds for discrimination, which are:

1. Gender
2. Civil status: single, married, divorced, etc.

3. Family status: if you're the parent or person responsible for a child over 18, or if you're the main carer or parent of a person with a disability
4. Sexual orientation
5. Religion
6. Age
7. Disability
8. Race
9. Being a member of the traveling community

At this time, Barrow Training is not in a position to offer training to learners outside of Ireland. All applicants must have a good standard of the English language. Learners who undertake a blended learning programme must also have basic computer skills, e.g. opening an internet page, following simple instructions, opening a Word document.

5.1.4 Promoting the Continuous Improvement of the Learning Process

Barrow Training programmes will be intellectually stimulating, challenging and relevant to the employability of the learner. Learner support systems will be maintained that facilitate a high-quality experience for all learners, irrespective of their location and their mode of study.

To achieve this Barrow Training will promote and develop active and reflective teaching and learning techniques, develop learning materials that are academically sound and engaging.

Barrow Training invite all learners to complete an evaluation form at the end of each programme which includes a section on the learning experience. This feedback is used in the continuous improvement of programmes. Additionally, the Quality Assurance Manager makes unannounced and scheduled site visits to programmes. The assessment form requires an evaluation of the learning experience. All feedback is returned to the Programme Development Committee and Quality Assurance Committee.

5.2 Teaching and Learning Environment

Barrow Training incorporates a variety of delivery modes into its training and education programmes. These are depicted in the figure below:

5.2.1 Training Venues

Barrow Training will ensure that training venues are designed so that they meet the requirement for which they are intended.

Lighting	All rooms will have the lighting appropriate to their use
Accessibility	Access for people with a disability (including special arrangements) where required shall be in accordance with national legislation, or reasonable accommodation made as appropriate
Health &amp; Safety	All venues will comply with legislative requirements relating to health and safety. This will include insurance, risk assessments, safety statements, escape routes, fire drills, emergency contacts and ensuring this information is communicated to both tutors and learners.
Equipment	Venues for theory assessments and skills demonstrations will satisfy the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Desks/chairs set out in examination format</li> <li>• Space to display clock and examination regulations</li> <li>• Sufficient space and breakout rooms for skills demonstrations</li> <li>• Access to appropriate toilet facilities</li> <li>• Appropriate waiting areas</li> </ul>

The Quality Assurance Manager and the Training & TEL Manager will identify and make booking arrangements with appropriate venues that satisfy the required standards. They will be aware of and will communicate any specific requirement beyond the minimum standard. Bookings will only be confirmed upon completion of a site visit to determine the suitability of the venue and completion of the Venue and Training Room Checklist. At every rebooking of an existing approved venue, the venue will be required to confirm that they continue to meet the minimum standards and must inform Barrow Training of any changes.

Learners are requested to submit online feedback relating to venues after each module. This feedback is collated by the Training & TEL Manager. Any issues or concerns will be notified to the Quality Assurance Manager. Issues will be listed in the corrective action database. Tutors are also requested to submit feedback when they are asked to rate the on-site teaching venue and facilities at the end of each delivery instance.

The venue will be notified of concerns where corrective actions need to be taken. All concerns and issues are recorded in the incident database and will consider these when planning venue bookings for the next sitting.

5.3 Complaints and Grievance Procedure

Staff, tutors, and all learners are made aware of the complaints and grievance procedure in their respective handbooks.

5.3.1 Purpose

This policy outlines the procedure for an employee or customer to raise a complaint concerning work related matters so that the issue may be addressed fairly and promptly and as close as possible to the point of origin, without disruption to work duties.

The benefits of such a procedure are that it prevents an accumulation of minor issues and ensures that the issues are resolved as speedily and fairly as possible. Failure to resolve grievances without undue delay and in a fair and reasonable manner may result in a minor grievance being escalated unnecessarily.

It is management's responsibility to deal promptly and fairly with any complaints raised by employees and customer either informally or under the formal grievance procedure. Managers are expected to handle all complaints in a manner that respects the right of the employee or customer to air their grievances.

If an employee or customer feels sufficiently aggrieved to raise a formal complaint, then the Board of Management is responsible for taking the complaint seriously. Managers are required to address grievances at the lowest level possible and to consider the merits of the employee's or customer's case before reaching a decision. Where a complaint is not upheld, the employee/customer is entitled to a clear explanation as to how the decision was reached.

Third party referrals should be viewed as a 'last resort' having exhausted the internal stages of the grievance procedure. In the event that an employee or customer refers the matter to a third party, the Manager must respect their rights to exercise his/her statutory entitlement to seek redress by co-operating fully with proceedings and maintain normal working relationships.

Managers have a duty to ensure that no employee suffers detrimental treatment as a result of raising a formal complaint either internally or to a third party.

5.3.2 Scope

This policy applies to all Barrow Training employees regardless of length of service and all Barrow Training customers.

Barrow Training is committed to promoting and maintaining good employee and customer relations. The grievance procedure does not cover claims for improvements in existing terms and conditions of employment which are of general application.

If an employee or customer has difficulty at any stage of the Grievance Procedure because of a disability or because English is not their first language, the employee should discuss the situation with his/her immediate Manager to whom he/she reports or, in the case of a customer, should report to the Training Manager. If the complaint relates to the Training Manager, then the customer may request to speak to another member of Barrow Training staff who can then liaise with Management to appoint someone else.

5.3.3 Informal Procedure

Most routine complaints are capable of being resolved on an informal basis without recourse to the formal grievance procedure.

1. The employee should raise the matter informally with their immediate Manager before invoking the formal grievance procedure.
The customer should raise the matter informally to the Quality Assurance Manager.
2. If the complaint relates to the employee's immediate Manager, the employee may discuss the matter informally with their HR representative.
If the customer's complaint relates to the Quality Assurance Manager, then the customer may request to speak to another member of Barrow Training staff who can then liaise with the Board of Management.
3. An informal discussion is to take place with the employee and supervisor/manager, or the customer and Quality Assurance Manager.
4. Written records of the informal discussion and agreements must be kept by the relevant Manager.
5. The company may opt to use an external facilitator/mediator to resolve the matters informally.

5.3.4 Formal Procedure

If the matter has not been resolved satisfactorily through the informal discussions, the employee or customer may raise a formal complaint under the grievance procedure.

5.3.4.1 Investigations

It may be necessary for the company to carry out an investigation into the employee's or customer's grievance. The level of any investigation required will depend on the nature of the allegations and will vary from case to case. It may involve interviewing and taking statements from the employee or customer and any witnesses, and/or reviewing relevant documents. The investigation may be carried out by the employee's immediate Manager to whom the employee reports or someone else appointed by Barrow Training. In the case of a customer, the Quality Assurance Manager will conduct the investigation or, if necessary, someone else appointed by Barrow Training.

The employee or customer must co-operate fully and promptly in any investigation. This may include informing Barrow Training of the names of any relevant witnesses, disclosing any relevant documents to the company and attending interviews, as part of the company's investigation.

Barrow Training may initiate an investigation before holding a formal grievance meeting where the company considers this appropriate. In other cases, the company may hold a grievance meeting before deciding what investigation (if any) to carry out. In those cases, the company will hold a further formal grievance meeting with the employee or customer after the company's investigation and before the company reaches a decision.

5.3.4.2 Right to be Accompanied

The employee or customer may bring a companion to any grievance meeting under this procedure. In the case of an employee, the companion must be a colleague. The identity of the chosen companion must be reported to the relevant manager, in good time before the meeting.

At the meeting, the companion may make representations to the immediate Manager or nominee and ask questions but should not answer questions on behalf of the employee or customer. The employee or customer may talk privately with the companion at any time during the meeting.

If the chosen companion is unavailable at the time a meeting is scheduled and will not be available for more than five working days afterwards, Barrow Training may ask the employee or customer to choose someone else.

Acting as a companion is voluntary and the employee's colleagues are under no obligation to do so. If a colleague agrees to do so they will be allowed reasonable time off from their duties without loss of pay to act as a companion. Barrow Training may, at its discretion, allow the employee to bring a companion who is not a colleague (for example, a member of the employee's family) if this will help overcome a disability, or if the employee has difficulty understanding English.

5.3.4.3 Stage 1

1. The employee or customer refers the complaint in writing to the Manager. This should contain a detailed description of the nature of the complaint, including any relevant details (facts/dates) and names of individuals involved. In some situations, the supervisor/manager or nominee may ask the employee or customer to provide further information.
2. If the grievance involves personal or other sensitive issues, which the employee considers inappropriate to raise directly with the supervisor/manager the employee may seek advice from HR. The customer may request to speak to another member of Barrow Training staff who can then liaise with the Board of Management.
3. The Manager or nominee will arrange a grievance meeting to discuss the matter not later than 7 working days, referenced to a five-day Monday to Friday working week.

4. The Manager or nominee will advise the employee or customer in writing of the date, time and venue for the grievance meeting and his/her right to be accompanied by a representative.
5. The Manager or nominee conducting the hearing should establish the precise details of the complaint in advance in order to check any policies or rules prevalent to the matter.
6. The purpose of the grievance meeting is to enable the employee or customer to explain the grievance and how he/she thinks it should be resolved, and to assist the Company to reach a decision based on the available evidence and the representations that have been made by the employee or customer.
7. The Manager or nominee should arrange for a colleague to attend to take notes and act as a witness.
8. The Manager or nominee will hear the complaint. Written records must be kept by the Manager or their nominee.
9. The Manager or nominee will convey the decision in writing to the employee or customer within 7 working days.
10. The Company may opt to use an external facilitator/mediator to resolve informally.

5.3.4.4 Stage 2

Should the issue remain unresolved following stage 1, the employee may refer the matter in writing to HR. This must be submitted within 5 working days referenced to a five-day Monday to Friday working week. Customer complaints move directly to Stage 3.

1. The HR representative or their nominee will arrange a grievance meeting to discuss the matter no later than 7 working days, referenced to a five-day Monday to Friday working week, following receipt of the complaint.
2. The HR representative or their nominee will notify the employee in writing of the date, time and venue for the grievance meeting and his/her right to be accompanied by a representative.
3. The HR representative or their nominee should establish precise details of the complaint in advance in order to check any policies or files relevant to the matter.
4. The HR representative or their nominee will arrange for a colleague to attend, take notes and act as a witness.
5. The HR representative or their nominee will hear the complaint.
6. Written records must be kept by the HR representative.
7. The HR representative or their nominee will convey the decision in writing to the employee within 7 working days.

5.3.4.5 Stage 3

If the matter remains unresolved after stage two in the case of an employee or stage one in the case of a customer, the matter may be referred in writing to the BOM of the Company. This must be submitted within 5 working days, referenced to a five-day Monday to Friday working week.

1. The BOM will arrange a grievance meeting to discuss the matter not later than 7 working days, referenced to a five-day Monday to Friday working week, following the complaint.
2. The BOM will advise the employee or customer in writing of the date, time and venue for the grievance meeting and his/her right to a representative.
3. The BOM or their nominee conducting the hearing should establish the precise details of the complaint in advance, in order to check any policies or rules relevant to the matter.

4. The BOM or their nominee should arrange for a colleague to attend the hearing, take notes and act as a witness.
5. Written notes must be kept by the BOM or their nominee.

The BOM will convey the decision in writing to the employee or customer within 7 working days, referenced to a five-day Monday to Friday working week. This decision will be final.

5.4 Policy on Assessment

Barrow Training is committed to a fair and consistent assessment process. Barrow Training therefore develop and comply with procedures for the fair and consistent assessment of learners in line with the relevant standards and guidelines as set out by our accrediting bodies. Barrow Training will ensure that assessment tools are fit for purpose, and that learners will receive formative feedback and ongoing support in a timely manner. Barrow Training will publish all relevant criteria and regulations. By doing so, Barrow Training will ensure validity and reliability of assessment tools and methodologies.

5.4.1 Assessment of Learning

Assessment of learning incorporates formative and summative assessment. Assessment of learning is a judgement, estimation or evaluation of a learner's knowledge, skills, and competence by comparison with a standard base. Learner assessment may be used to:

- determine entitlement to a qualification (e.g. summative assessment)
- confirm learning progress (by the learner or by another)
- to determine a learner's 'learning' competence
- identify gaps in learning (to, e.g., enable and inform the development of formative feedback to the learner or to adapt learning strategy)
- help determine special educational or training needs (e.g. diagnostic assessment)
- provide a learning opportunity
- inform the evaluation of the quality of a programme of education and training
- recognise experiential learning
- support the learner to monitor their own progress
- determine eligibility to enrol on a programme

5.4.2 Principles of Assessment

Assessment principles are organised under six themes (QQI Assessment and Standards, Revised 2013)

- a) Learners are responsible for demonstrating their learner achievement
- b) Assessment support standards are based on learning outcomes
- c) Assessment promotes and supports effective teaching and learning
- d) Assessment procedures are credible
- e) Assessment methods are reviewed and renewed as necessary to adapt to evolving requirements
- f) Learners are well informed about how and why they are assessed

Barrow Training Assessment principles are: (QQI Green Policy on Assessment of Learners and Learning, March 2018)

- a) Assessment will be valid, reliable, and effective
- b) Assessment and feedback will empower learners to become self-regulated learners
- c) Assessment and feedback will be clear and understandable by staff and learners
- d) Decisions on assessment and feedback will be guided by a programme-level approach
- e) Assessment and feedback approaches will foster partnership between staff and learners
- f) Learners will experience a diverse range of assessment methods, including, where relevant, authentic, and work-based assessments
- g) Assessment and feedback will be manageable for staff and learners
- h) Assessment and feedback will be enhanced through staff engaging in related professional development, including engagement in scholarship in this area
- i) Assessment and feedback will be supported by enabling policies

5.5 Marking and Grading

Barrow Training's assessment strategy is developed at programme design stage and should:

- Link the programme assessment instruments (formative and summative) to the MIPLOs and MIMLOs
- Describe and provide a rationale for each choice of assessment task
- Describe specific special regulations associated with a programme, i.e. learner may be required to achieve a minimum grade in each assessment
- Match the programme assessment instruments to the requirement of Barrow Training's grading system
- Ensure the programme workload is balanced and distributed, and that the effort required is proportionate to the credit allocated
- Relate to the programme's teaching and learning strategy
(QQI Assessment and Standards, Revised 2013)

Marking criteria is confirmed in the form of marking schemes and associated rubrics for each assessment element. This will ensure accuracy and consistency of standards across all tutors/internal examiners.

Once graded, assessment material is subject to internal verification (maximum 2-week process). Borderline or failed grades may be passed onto internal cross moderation. All assessed work is subject to an external, independent evaluation/moderation by an external authenticator. Once the assessment material has been verified and evaluated, and marks approved by the external authenticator they will be submitted to the results approval panel. Assessment results that have been passed through each of these stages is then submitted to the relevant awarding body for certification.

5.6 Assessment Strategies

Assessment strategies are developed by the programme development committee at programme design stage in line with the QQI programme descriptor. The committee also reviews these strategies on an ongoing basis.

Grading criteria of QQI assessments as follows:

Distinction	80% - 100%
Merit	65% - 79%
Pass	50% - 64%
Refer	0% - 49%

5.7 Assessment Procedures

Assessment procedures are provided to each learner at the start of the programme in the learner handbook. These procedures cover all aspects of assessment including marks and standards relating to the programme, rules regarding submission of course work, procedures relating to extensions and deferrals, and information relating to plagiarism and assessment malpractice.

Barrow Training abide by best practice principles for assessment:

- Setting and sharing the learning outcomes for each module and programme
- Sharing criteria for success for each assessment
- Providing feedback

5.7.1 Types of Assessment

Assessment plays a key role in the learning outcome approach by Barrow Training. Assessment tasks are seen as a primary means of learning and will provide the opportunity for demonstrating the learning outcomes in an integrated and realistic setting. Barrow Training aims to provide a balance of formative and summative assessment in its training and education programmes. The outcomes of these assessments provide an opportunity for the learner to give and receive feedback and aid their progress.

Formative assessments are conducted in class, usually devised by the tutors, and are usually informal, with no associated module marks or weighting. This type of assessment may include group-work exercises in class to include role-play, problem-solving and presentations, quizzes or mock exams, and peer feedback activities. This is an inclusive approach to assessment which supports learners in reflecting on their own learning.

Summative assessments normally take place at the end of a module and measure the extent to which a learner has met the learning outcomes. Examples of this type of assessment include exams, skills demonstrations, assignments, projects, and portfolios. The result of these assessments will contribute to the learners overall grade for the module.

5.7.1.1 Assessment Methodologies

It is important to link learning outcomes to assessment methods. Barrow Training uses a range of assessments to achieve learning outcomes which are linked to the Accrediting Body Assessment Criteria and are outlined below:

Type of Learning Outcome	Assessment Methodology
Communicating	Oral presentation Role play

	Group work Written presentation
Make judgements and think critically	Review Assignment Report
Solving problems	Group work Case study Problem scenario
Demonstrate knowledge and understanding	Report Quiz Assignment Case study Exam
Developing/managing yourself	Self-Evaluation Group work/project Learning journal
Performing procedures and demonstrating techniques	Role play Demonstration

5.7.2 Responsibilities relating to Assessment

All summative assessments are validated internally and externally. The tutor and the Quality Assurance Manager are responsible for the assessment of learners.

Approval for new assessment instruments is developed by the programme development committee and reviewed by the quality assurance committee. Pending recommendations, these will be submitted to the Board of Management for ratification before a proposal is submitted to the accrediting body.

5.7.3 Examinations Procedures

All examinations in Barrow Training adhere to the procedures and standards are required by the respective awarding body. If an exam forms part of the course paperwork, it will be issued to the tutor in a separate sealed envelope and stamped with the Barrow Training stamp. The exam date must be clearly written on the envelope along with the statement "must be opened and witnessed in class". The version used is logged on the Barrow Training system and the versions of exams are alternated. This envelope must be stored securely by the tutor.

Learners are made aware of the exam code of conduct during their induction presentation and in their learner handbook. This is reiterated to the learner immediately prior to the exam. Tutors must then return corrected exams to the Barrow Training office by registered post. Any spare exam papers are also returned and are shredded and destroyed.

If a learner is unsuccessful in their examination, they may repeat the exam within two weeks of their first attempt (maximum of 3 attempts). If the learner requires a repeat examination, their grade will be capped at a Merit. This may result in postponement of Certification until the next submission date. An administration fee of €50 applies per sitting.

5.7.4 Assessment of Skills

Skills demonstrations that form part of the assessment for classroom-based modules are completed during class time. Learners completing their training and education programmes through blended learning are invited to a skills demonstration day, where they will meet with their tutor for assessment.

Skills demonstration days for learners completing a blended learning programme are scheduled one day per month in the Barrow Training by the Training & TEL Manager. Offsite skills demonstration days are organised as required.

All skills demonstrations that form part of the assessment are photographed or, preferably, video recorded to be presented as evidence. If the module includes a skills assessment, learners sign a consent form which confirms that they understand that video recordings/photographs of their skills demonstration will be submitted as part of their assessment for certification in line with GDPR requirements.

Evidence of skills demonstrations are stored in an encrypted file and made available only to those involved in the certification process, i.e. tutor, internal verifier, external authenticator, and results approval panel. The maximum timeframe for these to be stored is nine months. After this time, skills demonstrations are deleted from the Barrow Training system.

Learners who complete skills demonstrations in the workplace must also present video/photographic evidence, as appropriate.

5.7.5 Recording Receipt of Assessments

Students upload assessments to the Moodle portal where they undergo a plagiarism check while being submitted. Students confirm that they are uploading their own work by agreeing to the terms and conditions. Students receive an electronic receipt of assessments submitted and a notification is sent to the course tutor and QA Manager.

5.7.6 Assessment Extensions

Extensions are granted in exceptional circumstances and must be requested at least three days in advance of the deadline date.

The learner must submit the request in writing using the extension request form to the Quality Assurance Manager. Valid reasons include bereavement, serious illness, an accident, or other serious personal issues. Where possible, these should be supported by documentary evidence.

The application is reviewed by the Quality Assurance Manager and the supporting tutor. A decision is made and communicated to the learner within 1 working day by the Quality Assurance Manager. A maximum limit of 3 extensions and 3 resubmissions are allowed per learner.

5.7.7 Security and Integrity of Assessment

Barrow Training recognises the importance of the security arrangements for its assessment procedures to ensure its integrity. These procedures are monitored for effectiveness by the internal Quality Panel. Tutors and learners alike are provided with examination and assessment guidelines during induction, which is reiterated in their respective handbooks. Examination versions are recorded in the exam log. Viper is used on all modules in order to identify plagiarism in written assignments. Additionally, learners are asked to sign a declaration on the Front Cover for Portfolio of Assessment stating that all work included is their own.

This is also of particular relevance to learners completing blended learning programmes. Learners on the LMS must upload a profile picture and a valid form of picture ID, for identification purposes, as well as presenting photographic proof of identification, e.g. passport, driving licence, when attending classroom-based days.

Technological developments have driven changes in both the nature of academic cheating and in the level of detection rates. Contract cheating is a term used to refer to the practice of companies that sell bespoke assignments, essays, and theses which learners may then submit for assessment, as their own work.

A new provision was included in the Qualifications and Quality Assurance (Education and Training) (Amendment) Act 2019 which empowers QQI to prosecute those who facilitate academic cheating, under the following headings:

- Impersonation
- Provision of cheating services
- Advertising cheating services
- Publishing advertisements for cheating services

5.7.8 Assessment Malpractice

Assessment malpractice includes any act that may undermine the integrity or validity of the assessment.

In cases where tutors suspect assessment malpractice, the matter should be reported to the Quality Assurance Manager. If there is insufficient evidence, then no further action will be taken. Otherwise, the Quality Assurance Manager and tutor, with appropriate witnesses, will conduct a preliminary investigation, which will include (an) interview(s) with the learner(s) concerned. If sufficient evidence that an offence has been committed exists, the Quality Assurance Manager will bring this to the attention of the Quality Assurance Committee who will decide on a course of action, which may include any of the following:

- Reduction in the mark (including a mark of 0) for the work affected.
- Resubmission of the work subject to a reduced maximum mark awardable of grade Pass.
- The results of the assessment may be invalidated if malpractice is confirmed, meaning the individual's scores or grades may be nullified.
- Penalties such as a failing grade for the assessment, course, or program may be imposed.
- The individual involved may face disciplinary action, which could include warnings, suspension, or expulsion from enrolling on any more courses.

Examples of assessment malpractice include the following:

- Plagiarism
- Impersonation of another learner

- Fabrication of evidence
- Wrongly obtaining secure assessment materials, e.g. examination paper
- Behaving in such a way that would undermine the assessment process, e.g. mobile phone use during an exam, communication with others during an exam, bringing prohibited materials into the exam centre

5.7.8.1 Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the practice of taking someone else's work or ideas and passing them off as one's own. It is dishonest, unethical, and unprofessional. Barrow Training uses effective anti-plagiarism processes and software ensuring the authenticity of learner's work. Work submitted for assessment may be subject to electronic or other detection methods. All work must go through the Viper plagiarism check.

5.7.9 Grading Assessments

Tutors are the primary examiners of assessment. Barrow Training ensure that there is transparency in grading. Feedback is recorded for each assignment by the tutor on the Assignment Front Cover Sheet. The main purpose of the feedback is to enable the learner to use the assignment process effectively in preparation for future assessments and to ensure transparency.

Grading criteria as outlined in QQI Quality Assuring Assessment Guidelines for Providers (2013) is used to inform tutors as to what a learner must attain in order to achieve a particular grade at each level. This is aided by Barrow Training's marking schemes set out for each module.

5.7.10 Internal Verification

Internal verification is the process by which Barrow Training assessment policies and procedures relating to planning, managing, and completing all aspects of assessment practices are monitored and checked internally by Barrow Training itself. The internal verifier is external from the RAP panel. The QA manager is the recipient of reports from the internal verifier. During the RAP Meeting, all documentation is presented by the QA manager. While the Quality Assurance Manager serves as Barrow's representative for observational purposes, they do not possess authority in approving results. Barrow Training completes 100% internal verification of its courses. Barrow Training may have more than one Internal Verifier in any one submission period, depending on the following:

- ✓ the number of learners
- ✓ the number, range and diversity of awards being offered

Responsibilities of the internal verifier include the following:

- Confirm that Barrow Training assessment procedures were adhered to across the range of assessment activities from planning to finalising results
- Ensure learning has been assessed using the techniques and instruments as indicated in the validated programme
- Check the accuracy of assessment results to ensure learner evidence exists, and that results, and grades are correctly computed and recorded
- Monitor assessment results
- Produce an internal verification report outlining the outcome of the internal verification process

5.7.11 Grade Rechecks

Should a learner consider that they may have been assigned an incorrect grade, they may request a recheck of the grade within two weeks of their provisional results becoming available. To request a recheck, the learner must contact the Quality Assurance Manager.

The following procedure should be followed by the tutor responsible for the relevant module:

- Review the exam script and the original assignment submission(s)
- Regrade the exam script and assignment to establish whether or not the original mark/grade awarded was correct
- Check to ensure that marks given to individual elements of the assessment are included in the total marks
- Check that the original total mark, where applicable, is accurate and that the grade awarded is correct
- The tutor shall pass the marking sheet to the QA Manager who will liaise with the QA Panel for their authorisation. Grades may be changed to lower or higher grades or may remain the same.

The tutor shall return the rechecked assessment to the Quality Assurance Manager, with their decision noted, within two weeks from the time the request is lodged.

5.7.12 Cross Moderation

A sample of each module will be subjected to cross moderation prior to submission for certification. A sample is chosen and checked by Barrow Training's lead assessor for the field of learning.

Where the lead assessor identifies a difference in the standard of marking greater than 5% but no greater than 10%, then the lead assessor has the authority to alter the mark awarded. Where a significant difference is identified, the mark will be altered, and relevant tutors will be invited for further training.

5.7.13 External Authentication

A sample of the assessments will be reviewed by an external authenticator prior to submission for certification. The role of the external authenticator is as follows:

- Confirm the fair and consistent assessment of learners consistent with the provider's procedures and with QQI/PHECC policy
- Review internal verification report(s) and authenticate the findings/outcomes
- Apply a sampling strategy to moderate assessment results
- Identify any issues/irregularities in relation to the Assessment Process
- Recommend results for approval
- Produce an external authentication report using the template provided by Barrow Training
- Maintain Barrow Training's agreed quality standards

Any feedback received is communicated to the relevant tutors by the Quality Assurance Manager. Changes and recommendations for any future delivery will also be reviewed and considered by the Results Approval Panel.

5.7.14 Results Approval

The purpose of the Results Approval Process is to ensure that results are quality assured entirely and signed off by Barrow Training prior to submission to the relevant awarding body. The Results Approval Process ensures that appropriate decisions are taken regarding the outcome of the assessment and authentication processes, i.e. the internal verification and external authentication processes.

In the event that the external authenticator has concerns regarding the results, a report will be submitted to Barrow Training outlining these concerns and identifying the irregularities found. Barrow Training must then instigate appropriate corrective action, as decided upon by the Results Approval Panel.

Responsibilities of the results approval panel include the following:

- Meet as required to review and approve assessment results
- Review reports of the internal verification and external authentication processes
- Agree to the submission of final results to the relevant accrediting body for certification
- Maintain Barrow Training's agreed quality standards
- Identify any issues arising in relation to the results and make recommendations for corrective action

5.7.15 Result Appeals

It is the policy of Barrow Training to provide arrangements for appeals in relation to assessment results and to ensure that they are dealt with in a thorough, fair, transparent, and timely manner. Learners are informed of their right to appeal during induction and also when they receive their provisional results.

Prior to formal appeals request when provisional grades are provided, learners can contact the QA Manager who will request and provide feedback to the learner from the tutor in relation to their query. This gives the learner an opportunity to resubmit their work or a section of their work if they wish to do so. If the learner is still unsatisfied with the feedback, they can commence the appeals process.

Upon receipt of the final result for a module, a learner who wishes to appeal the grade awarded should contact the Quality Assurance Manager. The learner can appeal if they believe there were irregularities or inequality in their assessment.

The learner can appeal the results of their assessment if they feel that:

- There was a substantial error of judgement or miscalculation on the part of the tutor
- Their performance in the assessment was adversely affected by illness or other factors, which they were unable or unwilling to divulge prior to completion of the assessment
- The tutor did not give sufficient weight to any extenuating circumstances previously notified to Barrow Training, or did not meet the request for reasonable accommodation

A request for an appeal must be submitted in writing using the Appeals Request Form to the Quality Assurance Manager not later than the date specified in the letter accompanying results. An administration fee of €50 applies for the appeal which is refundable if the appeal is successful. Further submission of evidence is not allowed at this stage.

The assessment material for the module is issued to the lead assessor for review. If the lead assessor is the original assessor, another assessor will be appointed.

After the appointed assessor reviews and considers the assessment, the QA manager presents it to the QAC for a final decision on the appeal.

The Quality Assurance Manager will inform the learner in writing of the outcome of the recheck within 14 working days. The relevant tutor will also be notified of the outcome within this timeframe.

The potential outcomes of the appeals process are as follows:

- Result upgrade or downgrade – the relevant accrediting body will be requested to amend database and issue new certificate accordingly
- No grade changes

Chapter 6. Learners Supports

This chapter relates to the following Quality Assurance guidelines from Barrow Training's accrediting bodies:

- Supports for Learners (QQI Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guideline 7)
- Learning Environment (PHECC Quality Assurance Theme 2)

6.1 Delivery Mechanisms and Learning Resources

Barrow Training provide an integrated and relevant range of learning resources and learner supports. These are actively promoted and communicated within Barrow Training and are responsive to learner feedback and to the evolving needs to learners. Learners are made aware of the supports and resources available to them in their learner handbook and are asked to evaluate these in their evaluation form upon completion of the module.

Face to Face Classroom Delivery	Barrow Training programme content is facilitated through appropriate delivery mechanisms such as role plays, group discussion, tutorials, and workshops.
Course Resource Books	Barrow Training has developed comprehensive learner resource packs for each course. These are provided to all learners by soft copy (hard copy by request). Programme material is updated as necessary to ensure validity and currency, while ensuring that the programme and module-specific learning outcomes are delivered. All updated and current packs are saved on the master list for access by the Barrow employees.
Practical Assignments and Group Quizzes	This practical application is a key process and is assessed through practical assignments such as case studies and project work. Tutors will also use quizzes and worksheets to reinforce learning through formative assessment.

6.1.1 Ongoing Support Mechanisms

Barrow Training supports the learner over the duration of the programme. The QA Manager has overall responsibility for co-ordinating the various learner supports, including arranging special accommodation requests, by learners and monitoring their effectiveness.

Email and Telephone Support	Tutors provide individualised learner support by email and administrative staff provide learner support by telephone and
------------------------------------	--

	email throughout the duration of the programme.
Workplace Support	Support within the learner’s workplace is provided by the tutor and the allocated onsite workplace supervisor.
Barrow Training Online Learning Management System	Barrow Training delivers its blended learning programmes via a Moodle-Based Learning Management System (LMS) from Enovation. This support provides learners with a library and forum for communication and technical support.
Ongoing Mentoring and Feedback	Barrow Training tutors and staff provide ongoing mentoring and feedback for the duration of the programme.
Administration and Assessment Support	Barrow Training team are available to provide necessary administrative support and endeavour to respond to all queries within 4 hours on working days.

6.2 Partnerships

For modules that require a work placement, there is a particular focus and relevance on the practical and technical aspect, there is therefore a three-way partnership between:

- a) The learner
- b) The host employer
- c) Barrow Training

Barrow Training commits to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Provide guidance on selection of potential workplace.</li> <li>Provide appropriate learning resources.</li> <li>Provide online and face-to-face support.</li> <li>Provide ongoing academic support.</li> <li>Provide access to mentoring and guidance.</li> <li>Provide on-going administrative support.</li> </ul>
The learner commits to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Secure an appropriate work placement.</li> <li>Complete the minimum number of work placement hours.</li> <li>Undertake personal study in their own time to complete required assessments and assignments.</li> <li>Agree to abide to any agreement in place with their employer.</li> <li>Inform Barrow of any relevant changes in the workplace.</li> </ul>

The employer commits to:	Offer the learner assistance within the workplace setting and enable them to effectively execute assignments or demonstrate skills as part of their routine responsibilities. Liaise with Barrow training when circumstances change or when difficulties arise.

6.3 Reasonable Accommodation Policy

6.3.1 Reason for Policy

Barrow Training is committed to building an inclusive learning environment. In compliance with legislation, Barrow Training is further committed to the provision of reasonable accommodation as defined in that legislation as a response to meet individual needs and as far as possible to enable full access and participation for all learners with a disability, a significant on-going medical condition or learning difficulty. The disability must be long-term and impact on learning and must be substantial.

6.3.2 Policy Statement

Under the Equal Status Acts, 2000 to 2015, Barrow Training is fully committed to providing reasonable accommodation to meet the needs of learners with a disability, a significant on-going medical condition or learning difficulty to enable them to successfully complete their programme on an equal footing with other learners. A reasonable accommodation might be any action that helps alleviate a substantial disadvantage arising from the learner's disability, significant medical condition or learning difficulty, without changing the demands or the integrity of the examination or the programme.

Providing a reasonable accommodation might involve changing procedures, modifying the delivery of the course taken, providing additional services (e.g. examination arrangements, materials in large print), or altering the physical environment. It does not substitute for, or exempt learners from meeting the core requirements of their programme. All learners registered with the Barrow Training must be able to meet the learning outcomes of their programme. Reasonable and appropriate accommodations and/or auxiliary aids are determined on a case-by-case basis and in accord with the individual's certified disability/significant medical condition/specific learning difficulty. Reasonable accommodations are intended to support learners to become more independent in their learning.

6.3.3 Scope

All learners seeking reasonable accommodation in relation to a disability, a significant medical condition or learning difficulty are required to confidentially disclose their status to Barrow Training prior to programme commencement. Disclosure of a disability, significant medical condition or learning difficulty does not necessarily imply the need for reasonable accommodation or that an application for accommodation would be successful.

The named person in Barrow Training for advice and support is the Quality Assurance Manager.

6.3.4 Procedures

A) Initial Application

Learners seeking reasonable accommodation in relation to a disability, a significant medical condition or learning difficulty are required to confidentially disclose their status to Barrow Training prior to programme commencement.

This can be done by requesting the Reasonable Accommodation Request Form from the Quality Assurance Manager. Learners should ensure that they have gathered all necessary evidence in advance of this application.

This applies to incoming learners or an existing learner who may not have previously declared a disability/significant medical condition/learning difficulty, or whose personal circumstances have recently changed.

In the case of the recent diagnosis of a previously unknown condition, the sudden onset or worsening of a significant medical/health condition, or where a learner has experienced an accident, consideration may be given to a late application on a case-by-case basis.

Whilst every effort will be made by Barrow Training to facilitate learners in these circumstances, it may not be feasible to respond effectively to unanticipated learner needs within the period preceding scheduled assessments.

B) Assessment Process

Upon receipt of a correctly completed and signed application for reasonable accommodation and supporting documentation, the Quality Assurance Manager will contact applicants to conduct a Learning Needs Assessment (LNA).

LNAs determine the level of support that learners require. Based on appropriate evidence of a disability/significant medical condition/specific learning difficulty, and information obtained from the learner on the impact of this, Barrow Training will identify supports designed to meet the learner's needs. This assessment meeting may be conducted face-to-face or remotely via phone or video conference (Microsoft Teams).

As part of the LNA, the following areas are addressed:

- Nature of disability or condition, to include impact on education, severity, hospital admissions etc.
- Treatment: any medication they are taking, outpatients' appointments, physiotherapy
- Previous support: what arrangements were made at secondary school or other FET/HE institutions if any
- Current difficulties: what difficulties does the learner anticipate they may have with their course
- Access to equipment and IT facilities
- Appropriate academic and disability support. These might include, for example, accessible class venues, in-course support, examination support arrangements

The Quality Panel will consider the recommendations identified within the report following this assessment and determine the feasibility of making the accommodations required.

Where a reasonable accommodation request has been granted, the learner will be notified in writing as indicated and will be required to confirm acceptance of the offer of reasonable accommodation in writing within 2 weeks of the date of the letter of offer. A failure to confirm acceptance in writing within the defined time period will be taken as a rejection of the offer and the file will be closed.

Where an application for reasonable accommodation has been refused, the learner will be notified in writing as indicated.

The QA Manager will provide, to the Quality Assurance Committee, an anonymised summary report on reasonable accommodations granted. This will include the number of applications received, the basis of the application and the accommodations granted.

C) Guidelines for Granting and Providing Reasonable Accommodations

Alternative Venues – Learners receiving reasonable accommodations normally sit their examinations in a different venue to their peer group and can, if necessary, sit an examination in a room of their own. Alternative venues should be fully accessible to learners with disabilities. The physical space available should be appropriate for the effective provision of the reasonable accommodation, for example:

- A large table to accommodate enlarged papers, Braille material, and/or technological aids
- Adequate floor space for manoeuvring wheelchairs, mobility aids, crutches, canes, and any other physical aid
- Access to power points for equipment and/or assistive technology

It is the responsibility of the Quality Assurance Manager to ensure that all announcements are conveyed to all learners sitting examinations in separate examination venues.

Time Allowance – Learners whose examination performance is significantly impacted by a disability/significant medical condition/learning difficulty may require extra time in examinations. Extra time is set at 10 minutes per hour. In exceptional circumstances this extra time may be extended.

Rest Breaks – Learners who may require a rest break in examinations include learners whose ability to complete the examination within the required time is significantly impacted by a medical, sensory, psychological, or physical disability. Rest breaks should be considered as pauses in the exam and the exam time should be stopped when a learner takes a rest break. Learners will have 10 minutes per hour.

Learners should tell the invigilator when they wish to have a rest break. They may take as much or as little out of their allocation as they wish at any one time. Learners can choose to stay in the room for their rest break or may leave the room if supervised. This can include going to the bathroom, taking a drink or snack if recommended, or moving around to relieve physical discomfort. Learners may not talk about or work on the examination during their rest break. The learner's examination paper(s) should also be turned over during rest breaks.

Scribe – Scribes may only be granted for learners who cannot handwrite due to the nature of their disability/significant medical condition/learning difficulty. Additional time of ten minutes per hour and a separate venue will be provided when using a scribe.

Both the learner and scribe should have access to training and practice sessions before the examination. The scribe should be an independent person and not known to the learner. The scribe may also act as the invigilator for the examination. Sometimes a learner may require a reader and a scribe. In such instances, the same person may act as both. A recording of the session is recommended as this will act as a secondary source of information for the examiner if required. Scribes should be capable of writing legibly at appropriate speed when writing a learner's dictated answers.

The scribe is required to produce an accurate record of the learner's answers and to write at an appropriate speed. The scribe should arrive before the commencement of the examination, allowing sufficient time to establish a rapport with the learner, to make seating arrangements and to agree guidelines for:

- Presentation
- Spelling
- Punctuation
- New paragraphs

The scribe should be relaxed. This may help to alleviate any anxieties the learner may have in relation to the examination. The scribe should advise learners as to the duration of the examination, the number of questions to be answered and any additional instructions. The starting time and finish time of the examination should be clearly stated by the invigilator. If the learner needs a rest or toilet break the invigilator should accompany them. A learner may elect to write sections of the paper themselves. If the learner writes notes, essay plans or illustrations, these should be included with the examination script. For example, the learner might draw rough diagrams from which the scribe will draw a final version and include both copies with the examination script.

Reader – Learners whose ability to read is significantly impacted by a disability may require a reader in examinations. Most learners will be accommodated together in the same venue with a shared reader. In exceptional cases only an individual reader may be required. If the examination is assessing competence in reading and reading comprehension the provision of a reader may not be appropriate.

Both the learner and reader should have access to training and practice sessions before the examination. The reader should be an independent person and not known to the learner. In the case of a foreign language, scientific, mathematical, or technical subject, the reader should have a working knowledge of that subject/language. The reader should be able to read accurately and at a reasonable rate. Sometimes a learner may require a reader and a scribe. In such instances the same person may act as both.

The reader should not provide content to the learner or offer any suggestions. The reader should not advise the learner on which questions to attempt, when to move on to the next question, or the order in which questions should be attempted. Instructions given on the examination paper can only be repeated when the reader is specifically requested to do so by the learner. The reader should make no other comment or use any intonation which emphasises any part of the examination questions, nor make any interpretation of the examination question(s). The reader should not discuss any matter with the learner during the examination unless it relates to the re-reading of an examination question (having been requested to do so by the learner).

When working with vision-impaired learners, readers should read the examination questions as often as requested. Readers should provide information regarding time elapsed and time remaining. Readers should help a learner using tactile maps, diagrams, graphs, and tables to extract the information which the print copy would provide to a sighted learner. Readers should give the spelling of a word on an examination paper if requested.

Sign Language Interpreter – A sign language interpreter translates oral-based language, text, and speech, into Irish Sign Language (ISL) so a Deaf person can understand what is being communicated.

Where a learner's first language is ISL, an interpreter may, if requested, be made available to translate the examination paper into ISL. An interpreter may also be made available to facilitate a learner whose first language is ISL answering the examination questions in ISL. This can be done in one of the following ways:

- The learner may wish to sign their examination and to have this simultaneously transcribed by a scribe
- In exceptional circumstances where learning outcomes cannot be assessed by any other mode, the presentation of assignments or examinations in ISL recorded on videotape may be permitted. If a learner signs the examination to a scribe or on video, additional time, a separate examination venue and appropriate invigilation will be granted

The interpreter should arrive before the commencement of the examination, to make seating arrangements and to interpret interactions between invigilators and learners. This time should also be used as an opportunity for the learner and the interpreter to become familiar with each other's communication styles. The interpreter should translate all announcements and information given by the invigilator prior to and during the examination. The interpreter should translate all interaction between the examiner and the learner, including questions and clarifications. The interpreter should interpret no other speech/sign, nor go beyond the learner's or the invigilator's/examiner's communications.

The learner may request that the interpreter translate questions from the written examination paper. If, following translation, there is need for further clarification, the interpreter may attempt to rephrase their interpretation, but they must not attempt to introduce additional information over and above that which is specifically mentioned in the question. Any further clarification that is sought should be referred to the examiner and not offered by the interpreter.

Where a learner's first language is ISL an interpreter may, if requested, offer a translation of ISL vocabulary into English; this may include offering the spelling of word in English on the basis of ISL vocabulary. The interpreter must not provide additional examples, contextual information nor should they attempt to provide guidance to the learner in answering a question.

If a learner wishes to sign their assignment or examination and to have this simultaneously transcribed by a scribe, the interpreter may seek clarification, as is normal in interpreted interaction. This should be done in a manner that reduces the impact upon the learner's flow. If the interpreter is seeking frequent clarification, the matter should be raised with the Quality Assurance Manager at the earliest opportunity, and a suitable replacement for further examinations should be found.

Furniture in Examination Venues – A learner with a disability or significant medical condition may require alternative furniture (i.e. chair support, writing board, footstool etc.) in examination venues.

Personal Assistants – Learners who have a Personal Assistant may require the Personal Assistant to attend the examination venue.

Examination Papers in Alternative Formats – Learners who are visually impaired may require examination papers in enlarged print. Learners who have a visual impairment may require graphs, diagrams, maps, or other visual elements of the examination paper presented in a tactile format. Learners who are blind or vision-impaired and fluent Braille readers may require a Braille version of the examination paper. Learners who have difficulty reading the examination paper may require coloured overlays.

Flexible Examination Arrangements – Flexible examination arrangements refer to any alteration in the standard form of assessment in order to accommodate a learner's disability/significant medical condition/learning difficulty. This might include:

- Provision of an oral examination instead of a written test
- Some flexibility around the scheduling of examinations, such as, allowing more time between examinations for a learner with a physical disability or medical condition who experiences fatigue
- Examinations split into more than one session

It should be noted that flexible examination arrangements are granted in exceptional circumstances only.

All reasonable accommodations will be subject to annual review to ensure the effectiveness of the accommodations provided and to facilitate the termination of accommodations no longer required or necessary. Learners who fail to use a reasonable accommodation that has been granted will have that accommodation reviewed.

6.4 Protection for Enrolled Learners (PEL)

Barrow Training has learner protection arrangements in place with respect to enrolled learners on all QQI (FET) validated courses in accordance with the Qualifications and Quality Assurance (Education and Training) (Amendment) Act 2012.

The following programmes provided by your institution are listed under the aforementioned policy:

- Healthcare Support 5M4339 – Online
- Healthcare Support 5M4339 – Classroom Directed
- Healthcare service Skills 5M3782 – Classroom Directed
- Management 6M4587 – Classroom Directed

The legal requirement ensures that learners enrolled on a programme, of longer than 3 months duration and where fees have been paid, are not disadvantaged in the event of the programme ceasing prior to completion.

Barrow Consultancy and Training Ltd has approval to offer students learner protection insurance. Learner Protection insurance is only in place when each student receives their Insurance Policy. Each learner should ensure that they receive a Learner Protection Insurance Policy in their name. Learner Protection insurance is provided by Arachas and underwritten by Aviva Insurance Ireland DAC. The learner protection policy provides for a refund of fees as specified in the 2012 Act. In some circumstances, it may be possible for a learner to transfer to a similar programme in another provider. In such circumstances, the learner may opt to receive the cost of an alternative similar academic programme. Transfer to another programme is always only a second option. The learner protection insurance policy is governed by s. 65(4)(b) of the 2012 Act.

6.5 Pastoral Care

In an increasingly complex, diverse, and often uncaring world, the need for pastoral care is greater than ever.

In Barrow Training, some of those we work with feel side-lined and vulnerable. For them, coming to further education is their way of giving their lives purpose and meaning. Barrow Training staff are acutely aware of this and see every learner as a unique individual and treat them with unconditional positive regard.

There is a qualified life coach with a post-graduate qualification in adult career guidance counselling available. A 30-minute appointment is available to all our learners, free of charge, upon request.

Our expert tutors are supported by the Quality Assurance Manager in their provision of pastoral care. The Quality Assurance Manager organises regular CPD for tutors and staff alike, outside of academic requirements, e.g. Mental Health Awareness, LGBTQ+ Awareness.

Chapter 7. Information and Communication Management

This chapter relates to the following Quality Assurance guidelines from Barrow Training's accrediting bodies:

- Information and Data Management (QQI Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guideline 8)
- Public Information and Communication (QQI Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guideline 9)
- Organisational Structure and Management (PHECC Quality Assurance Theme 1)

Barrow Training is committed to reviewing, maintaining, and continuously enhancing its knowledge-based information system to allow for the collection, analysis, and use of relevant information to ensure effective management support and development of its programmes and other activities. Critical quality indicators are maintained and reviewed on an ongoing basis and used to inform continuous improvement within the organisation.

Our QA manual is available to view on our website www.barrowtraining.ie

7.1 Information Management System

Barrow Training implement a customised Information Management System (IMS) called HubSpot. HubSpot is updated on a regular basis and provides an excellent data repository and reporting function for all organisational activity.

7.2 Data Collection and Sources

Barrow Training collect and hold a wide range of data which is captured within our IMS, the NAS (network-attached storage) system and the emails systems. These can be used for relevant analysis and reporting within all functional areas. The data which is captured can be organised into the following 5 categories.

- a) Personal data (tutors, learners, and staff – queries, learner admission and assessment information)
- b) Programme-specific
- c) Assessment
- d) Financial and operational
- e) Learner, tutor, and client feedback
- f) Marketing

Data is collected through various methods such as booking forms, enquiry forms, telephone conversations, emails, Live Chat, CVs, registration forms and other appropriate means.

Information is stored on Barrow Training's internal administration system for seven years, at which point it is deleted. Hard copies of information collected is destroyed after one year.

7.3 Backups and Disaster Recovery

Barrow Training's backup system is managed by a local external IT Support company.

Business IT Solutions, 16 Hebron Business Park, Hebron Road, Kilkenny

(056) 778 6882 support@bits.ie

Barrow Training servers are protected from physical and electronic attack. The security and retention of learner data is paramount, and a multi-layer back-up policy and data processing agreement are in place. All files are backed up twice a day to secure cloud storage. Barrow

Training monitor these daily backups by the support dashboard and can respond immediately to any abnormal events.

The system is designed to handle hardware failure on any individual server with minimum disruption to learners and faculty. Load balances automatically manage the network traffic in the event of a server failure, in many cases without interruption to the learners' online experience.

In case of an emergency where it is not possible to gain access to Barrow Training's physical office, e.g. red weather warning, all staff can access the NAS drive remotely. This will ensure that the company can operate on a temporary basis.

7.6.3 Records Management

Records Management is the application of controls and procedures to the creation, maintenance, use and disposal of records in accordance with approved procedures.

This policy applies to all areas and locations of Barrow Training and includes all departments and areas of work which form part of Barrow Training structure.

Operational responsibility for the implementation of this policy rests with the Manager in each Academic/Administrative area.

Where records are used by more than one department, clarity about which department has primary/final responsibility for management of the records should be established between the relevant department

The confidentiality of information within records must be safeguarded at all times. It is the responsibility of each department to ensure that the appropriate security measures are observed for maintaining records containing personal or other confidential information.

Once records have been retained by the creating department (in situ or offsite storage) for the requisite time as stipulated in the attached retention schedule, they must be destroyed or archived for permanent retention as set out in the schedule.

When scheduled for destruction, records must be shredded, pulped, or otherwise disposed of securely. The manner of destruction of records must be appropriate to the level of confidentiality of the records.

In the case of in-house destruction, the department/office/unit should document and retain the date and manner of destruction of records. In the case of third-party destruction, a certificate or docket confirming destruction should be received and retained as proof of destruction.

Record

Records are documents in all formats, which are created/received and maintained as evidence of business completed or as a source of knowledge and which must be retained for as long as required to meet legal, administrative, financial, operational, or historic needs of Barrow Training.

The Freedom of Information Act, 2014, defines a 'record' as follows:

- e) a copy or part of anything which falls within paragraph (a), (b), (c) or (d)."

Record Series

Groups of related records, which are created and used with a common purpose, for example, financial records; personnel records; examination results, committee minutes etc.

Records Classification

The procedure where records are identified and categorised for filing on the basis of their subject and are assigned a file name for efficient retrieval.

Active Record

Active records are records, which are required and referred to constantly for current use, and which need to be retained and maintained in office space and equipment close to users.

Semi-Active Record

Semi-active records are records, which are referred to infrequently and are not required constantly for current use. Semi-active records are often removed from office space to off-site storage until they are no longer needed.

Inactive Record

Inactive records are records for which the active and semi-active retention periods have lapsed, and which are no longer required to carry out the functions for which they were created.

Permanently Valuable Records – Archives

Permanently valuable records include those with legal, operational, administrative, historical, scientific cultural and social significance.

Disposition

Disposition is the action taken in regard to the disposal of active records, which can involve physical destruction by means of security shredding or recycling; transfer to archival storage for selective or full retention; or special disposition through a formal act of alienation from the custody of Barrow Training.

Records Retention Schedules

A Records Retention Schedule is a control document that describes Barrow Training's corporate records at a series level and indicates the length of time each series should be retained prior to final disposition; and the final disposition of each series. This document serves as the legal authorisation for the disposal of records.

7.6.7 Forms of Records

Records may exist in a variety of physical forms including:

- paper documents (written or printed matter)
- electronic records (i.e. word processing files, databases, spreadsheet files, emails, electronic data on any media etc.)
- books, drawings, and photographs
- anything on which information is recorded or stored by graphic, electronic or mechanical means
- copies of original records

7.6.8 Electronic Records

The nature of electronic records requires that consideration be given to security, authenticity, accessibility, version control, preservation (e.g. back-up of records) and the disposal of such records.

Staff must employ the following good housekeeping practices in the management of electronic records:

- sensible and consistent naming of files and folders
- systematic indexing/classification of records
- backup of appropriate files on a regular basis
- delete records regularly (including email records) in accordance with the attached retention schedule
- restrict access to record systems (use of passwords, timed lock out of PCs, etc.)
- particularly sensitive records to be emailed to external bodies should be password protected
- produce paper copies if required to maintain the integrity of manual files

In the case of electronic records where the computer equipment is maintained by a local external IT Support company – Business IT Solutions (BITS), Barrow Training must formally agree backup and recovery procedures with BITS. This is to ensure that there is no ambiguity as to which office is responsible for records in the event of hardware failure or accidental deletion of records.

Where electronic records are kept on systems not maintained by BITS, a formal inventory of such records must be maintained by the head of academic/administrative area.

7.6.9 Management and Retention of Records

Records should be retained for as long as they are required to meet the legal, administrative, financial, and operational requirements of Barrow Training during which time, they should be filed appropriately. Following a period of time, as set out in the attached retention schedule, they are either archived or destroyed.

Barrow Training records must be sorted and filed on a basis that ensures efficient retrieval.

Appropriate filing/archiving or destruction of records is to be carried out in accordance with the attached retention schedule.

The retention schedule is based on a determination of legal retention requirements as defined in relevant legislation (Health, Safety and Welfare at Work Acts 2001 & 2005; Freedom of Information Act 2014; General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and Data Protection Acts 1988-2018 etc.) as well as Barrow Training policies and procedures, administrative and operational requirements, historical value, and general best practice.

7.6.10 Record Retention Schedule

The records retention schedule prescribes the retention period for a range of records held by Barrow Training.

Any department which considers that records should be retained for a longer period than that set down in Barrow Training retention schedule is required to consult with the Data Protection Officer to ensure that reasonable justification exists for their retention and, in the case of records which contain personal information, to ensure compliance with the GDPR and the Data Protection Acts (1988-2018).

8.3 External Programme Review

This is a formal evaluation of our validated programmes by our various accrediting bodies. It is carried out on a five-year cycle. This project is managed by the Quality Assurance Manager.

This review has 3 stages:

- Internal review
- External review
- Final overall review by Barrow Training

8.3.1 Internal Review

Formation of Programme Review Team	This team is appointed by the Quality Assurance Committee. This process is the responsibility of and is co-ordinated by the Quality Assurance Manager who will develop a project plan with timelines, key tasks, and review meetings.
Consultation with Relevant Stakeholders	Relevant stakeholders may include learners (past and present), relevant managers, programme tutors, and relevant external consultants, if required.
Review of Collected Data	Feedback from stakeholders above is reviewed along with annual programme review reports. The data is critically analysed to establish to what extent the programme meets the accrediting body validation criteria. Recommendations and findings are presented to the Board of Management prior to the completion of the Self-Evaluation Report.
Self-Evaluation Report (SER)	This report is compiled by the Quality Assurance Manager. It will provide the expert panel with an overview of developments over a 5-year period. The Quality Assurance Committee will approve the final report before submission to relevant accrediting body.

8.3.2 External Review

Expert Panel Formation	An expert panel is formed by the accrediting body with experts from relevant fields of learning.
Site Visit	This allows the panel to review necessary documentation and meet relevant personnel. An agenda is agreed in advance.
Panel Review and Feedback	Formal report is based on combined review and evaluation of SER and panel visit and will contain a recommendation in respect of the continuing validation of the programme.

8.3.3 Final Overall Review by Barrow Training

Review by Barrow Training	The Board of Management will review the findings of the final report and decide whether or not to consider revalidation. A formal response will be submitted to the accrediting body.
